WAKE COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC (WCGS) was organized in April 1982 to promote genealogical study and research, to serve as a medium of exchange of genealogical or historical information, to encourage the preservation of genealogical or historical records, to provide cultural, educational, and social opportunities involving genealogy. In 1983 WCGS was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the laws of the State of North Carolina.

MEMBERSHIP: Membership is open to anyone with an interest in the purposes of WCGS as stated above. The membership year is from January 1 through December 31. Annual dues for new members are $20.00 for individuals and institutions and $25.00 for families (two people, related by blood or marriage residing at the same address). A former charter member can rejoin for a fee of $15.00 - a one-time option.

MEETINGS: WCGS meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month except in June, July, August, and December. Meetings begin at 7:00 PM and visitors are welcomed. The current meeting place is Westover United Methodist Church, 300 Powell Dr, Raleigh, NC.

CORRESPONDENCE: All correspondence should be sent to WCGS, PO Box 17713, Raleigh, NC 27619-7713. For a fee of $5.00, you may request up to one hour of research by the "Please Help Me" Committee.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS: Please notify WCGS of a change of address as soon as it is known so that your journals and other WCGS communications will reach you in a timely manner. There is a $3.00 charge for remailing returned journals. Postage costs for returns have more than doubled since October 1995 and continue to increase in small increments.

WAKE TREASURES is the journal of WCGS and is free to members. One copy is sent for each Family Membership. Bi-annual issues are identified as Winter/Spring, and Summer/Fall.

EDITORIAL POLICY: Emphasis will be on unpublished, primary source documents with historical or genealogical significance for Wake County, NC. Primary source documents from counties from which large numbers of inhabitants migrated into Wake County may be used provided there is no Genealogical or Historical Society serving that county. Articles emphasizing methodology, instructions and "lessons learned" will be welcomed. Manuscripts about Wake County residents, past and present will be accepted. Wake County family cemetery surveys and Bible records will be used as space allows. Articles will reflect a balance regarding time periods and needs of both the novice and the experienced genealogists.

Manuscripts submitted will be judged on style, clarity, consistency, documentation and general appeal to the membership. References used to compile the manuscript must be included. (Send SASE to Editor for guidelines.)

Book reviews will be published for authors or publishers who donate the book to the WCGS library and for publications recommended by members which are pertinent to Wake County or of general genealogical interest. Books are then donated by the society to the Olivia Raney Library.

Neither WCGS nor the Journal Committee shall be held responsible for content, punctuation and/or spelling errors in manuscripts. Such errors are the sole responsibility of the contributor. Documented corrections of content errors, submitted to the Journal Editor, will appear in a later issue.

QUERIES: Members may submit an unlimited number of queries at no additional charge. Queries are accepted from non-members at $2.00 per query. For an extra $5.00, non-members can request a copy of the journal in which their paid queries were included. It is helpful when queries are submitted on a Wake Treasures Query Form. Queries are subject to editing and will be printed as space permits. Requests for Query Forms (send a SASE) and query submissions should be addressed to Query Editor at the address printed above. You may also xerox the query form in the insert placed in the center of the journal when more than one copy is needed.

PERMISSION TO QUOTE: Permission to reproduce or quote from an article published in any issue of Wake Treasures must be obtained in writing from the author(s). Write to the specific author in care of the WCGS address above.

BACK ISSUES: Past issues of Wake Treasures are sold only in volume sets. Volumes I through V are now available. See insert for price and other details.

Message From the Editors:

Wake Treasures has been undergoing some growing pains. As you know, Elizabeth May resigned as Editor at the end of the year. We wish to thank her for her many contributions to the journal and wish her luck in her new pursuits.

The two of us are serving as Interim Co-Editors along with a dedicated committee, and hope you are pleased with this much larger journal. We plan one other for this year so you will receive at least as much from the two journals as you would have from four.

We appreciate your patience while we have been undergoing change! We also would like some feedback on this journal! Do you like the new series? What types of articles would you like to see? Please let us hear from you and keep the queries coming.

DWC Hayslip – Would You Say He Was Accident Prone?

Submitted by Mary Alice Hale
Transcribed by Jerry J. Lewis

[We regret at this time that we cannot give you a source for this article. Mary Alice Hale was given a copy of this at a workshop held in VA and unfortunately the Archivist giving the lecture has been unable to supply a source.]

D. W. C. HAYSLIP was born at West Union Adams County, Ohio, Aug. 8th, 1829. Went to school with:

Ralph McCLURE
Thomas J. HAYSLIP
Mrs. Mary Jane WILLIAMSON
Mr. LANE
John M. SMITH
Greenberry R. BAKER
John GRAHAM
Robert BUCK

He was badly scalded when a small child, by overturning a coffee boiler on himself, Was confined six weeks from it. Scars visible 40 years afterwards, on the back of his legs, up to his hips.

When beginning to crawl, he laid his hand in the way of the meat axe, in the hand of his brother, Frank, who chopped his thumb; cut the leaders making his thumb crooked, but not stiff. It was the right thumb.

His brother, Robert made a lifelong mark on the ends on his first fingers on the left hand. This was also done with an axe.

He fell into the cellar when a boy, made a scar on the left side of the forehead.

A boy hit him unintentionally with a rock, made a scar on the right-side of the forehead, both scars extend into the hair.

Playing with boys, he accidintally [sic] got his mouth torn open while they dragged a locust tree over him. Result a deep scar, at the right-corner of the mouth.

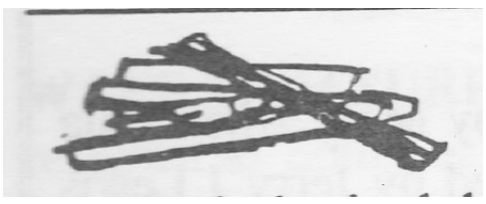
Another scar below that was made by his letting fly a grinding stone handle.

He had the small-pox when a boy, some scars on the face.

After we moved to our present house (about 1861) he was cutting wood, a stick flew into his face, cut up from his lip on the left-side below the nose it made a scar. A deep scar in the thumb region of the palm, he cut with an axe before he was grown.

Had a cancer wart in the right arm, below the elbow, when he was 17 or 18 years old; left a scar as large as a dime.

On Thursday 7th of Feb. 1867 about 10 o'clock A.M. while sawing logs at Thomas & Henry MILLER's mill at Circleville a log two feet in diameter rolled over his body in position like this mashing his head down between two logs, crushed his right cheek bone, broke the socket below the eye, skinned the lower part of the face, cut his left cheek, bruised the breast and left shoulder, and broke an rib on the left side or tore it loose from the neck bone. His face was down. At this date (Jan 2nd 1872) this finished the history of the scars.



Copy of the letter written to cousin John Gransford. Nashville, Tenn. By A. L. H. Apr 1st, 1896. Dewitt Clinton HAYSLIP was born in West Union Ohio Aug 8th 1830. He first learned the hunting business. After which he became a telegrapher in the town of his nativity. Next to Cincinnati, Ohio Aug. 11, 1850 he arrived at Glasgow, Ky. He continued in the telegraph office until 1851. When he became clerk in J. R. BARRICK's drug store. His next venture was made in June 1852, when he commenced driving, a peddler's wagon through the communities or towns Louisville, Schelbyville, Richmond, Georgetown, Winchester, Frankfurt, and Lexington, also Danville, where he met you when you attended school there.

In Texas he was improved land, split rails made boards, furniture, spent a turn in the war card factory. Ran a mill several years. Farmed, and in 1868, built the Blacksmith shop.

Typed Versus Hand-Written

Did you know that typed envelopes with the city, state, and ZIP code on the last line will reach addresses one day earlier than hand-written ones? The optical scanner that "reads" the envelopes starts at the bottom and scans up to find this information. If you use "Attention to:" at the bottom left side of the envelope, it will be kicked out by the scanner and held until a human eye can sort it.

Printed Stamped Envelopes

A Revolutionary Event

Source: Cumberland Cove Notes, Volume II, 10 October 1994

During the revolution, a Tory spy was running from the militia when he came upon a farm and decided to hide in the henhouse. The hens put up such a fuss that the farmer came out to see what all the common was about. The farmer found the Tory crouched in a corner, captured him, and turned him over to the troops. That's the first time Americans ever heard of "Chicken-Catch-A-Tory."

Please Help Me – I Have a Problem

By Elizabeth Dees

We are starting a column on problem solving and research tips. In it we will use selected letters from our "Please Help Me" Committee mail or specific requests from you, our readers, which might be of general interest.

Rather than using one letter in this first column, we are addressing a problem which plagues many of us who provide research services for others. Examples will be used from the letters in the file, but name and place changes have been made. The examples are representative of too many in my files. It is a problem which might prevent you from getting a good response to your request. Quite simply, this is communication.

Communicating Your Request

I will not belabor the subject of correspondence in general, which is well covered in The Researchers Guide by V. Greenwood and again in North Carolina Research by Leary and Stirwalt. I will reiterate that brevity and clarity are key to a successful request.

Example 1: "I would like all the information you have on the Jones family."

This is a legitimate request in the eyes of the writer – but it asks far too much although it does meet the brevity and clarity test. Be specific. A good start might be, "Samuel Smith married Nancy Jones in Wake County ca. 1820. Who were her parents?"

Example 2: "My g-g-grandfather Zebediah Youngblood's military papers say he came out of Wake County. To date I have found no Youngbloods there. Can you help me?"

"My g-grandfather was born in Lincoln County, his name was John King. What can you tell me about him?"

Surprisingly, this is most common. We assume that generations follow a pattern and the reader can guess the age of the writer. Give a general time period if dates are unavailable, such as, "my g-g-grandfather would be of the 1812 period whereas yours might be of the Civil War period." A starting trip through seven or eight census indexes is daunting particularly if the name is a fairly common one.

Example 3: "Freeman/Freedman/Friedman. Ancestor Edmund born 1836 in Nash, md MaryJane 1858 in AR 1860. MaryJane daughter of James Howland and Sarah Miyatt, children of John Howland and Jane Goode and Will Miyatt and Dicey Gerrell daughter of George Ferrell and Willa Jones. Question: Was Edmund Freeman son of Edmund Freeman and Charity Wells?" Question: Who were Willa Jones parents?"

We have brevity and eventually, a sort of clarity, but the suspense would be lessened by posing the question first and including a small family chart. (Note: I appreciate family charts for our file and frequently use them for responses to others searching the same line.)

I cannot suggest a particular form to use for all requests since problems vary too much. I do suggest you glance at our query column and note how items are phrased. Our Query Editor spends much time sifting them for conciseness without excluding relevant information.

One last piece of advice – three pages of research interspersed with conjecture and questions is best saved for correspondence with others seeking the same lines. It is often extremely difficult to structure your immediate problem, which is what the volunteer or paid researcher deals with.

For Future Columns

As was stated in the beginning, this is to be a column on problem solving and tips. For it to be beneficial to you, we need to know the problems you are having. Are there terms you do not understand? How do you feel about sharing your research with other researchers? Do you have tips learned "the hard way" which you would like to share with others? Please let us hear from you so we will know what topics to discuss.

Book Review

By Elizabeth Dees

Richard Arrow Smith and His Descendants of Wake County, NC, Smith and Related Families, Broughton, Bagwell and Stancil of Wake and Johnston Counties, NC
Compiled by Rebecca L. Blackwell and Crama L. Graham
Published by Heritage Books, Inc.

This genealogy which traces the descendants of Richard Arrow SMITH ca 1745-1819 of Wake county was kindly donated to our Society by Mr. Willard I. Simmonds, Jr., a ggg-grandson of Richard Arrow SMITH and Esther JOHNSON. May 24, 1995.

It will also be of interest to those researching the SAULS, BAUCOM and POOLE families. Although the authors do not trace Richard SMITH's antecedents, they advance the theory that the NC SMITHs in this line descend from one of several ARROWSMITHs in VA or MD, based on the use of Arrow^{s} shortened to A as a middle initial well into the nineteenth century.

The book contains a narrative using the Ahentafel system of eight families as they join the SMITHs, with dates of births, marriages, and dates of deaths. Charts are included in the back but are undated. However, an excellent index helps locate individuals in both sections.

April 1st was not always the Census Day. An age found on a federal census record is supposed to be the age of that person on the Census Day date, even if the census taker took the census before or after that date.

Some Dos & Don'ts in Genealogical Research

By Harriette Harris Riggs

1. Don't assume information in printed family histories is "TRUTH" because it has been published. Always secure as much documentation as possible to support statements by anyone.

2. Don't take for fact the family traditions "handed down" to later generations. That information can be like the game of "gossip." A changed word here and there means something else to another person. Always look for the facts.

3. Don't assume no one else is descended from your ancestor and demand an original document at the Archives. Those are official records that are now in custody for preservation and for the use of the public at large. [Several scenes have been witnessed by researchers when another very angry researcher has done this very thing and demanded an original will. The Search Room Supervisor was polite, but very firm in stating it was a public record and did not belong to an individual.] A little courtesy and understanding is needed here. For a small fee, a copy is available to anyone who wants it.

4. Do be organized! If space is a problem, there are several ways to do this. Buy lots of file folders and a portable, stackable file box with a handle that can be carried from room to room or on research trips. Label the boxes so you know which surnames are stored in each box. One will not be enough.

   Do use forms! You can have the answer to a problem and not realize it because you aren't putting your information in a format that is easy to understand. A completed family group sheet and a lineage chart speak volumes. A three- or four-page letter sent to another researcher means it takes at least thirty minutes to understand. Many times, it will be laid aside to read later (maybe much later), whereas the charts are easily and quickly read.

   Another way is to use a large four-inch thick notebook with dividers. Hole punch and file copies of all correspondence (including your replies). A section could be used for group sheets for a particular surname, another for documentation, and still one for copied pages of family histories. Be creative, but organize it. Information is not of much use when you can't find it!

   If you have a computer and are not using a genealogical program, you are missing a great way to record your family history. You can add, delete, and change information as you discover more. You can add sources, medical and military records, and much more. Indexes can be printed so you can easily find the particular John Jones you want, or you can use the search features contained in most programs. It will be a real time saver since you won't have to spend all that time writing letters trying to explain your family tree to someone else. Simply print out your group charts, descendant or ancestor charts, and others to send to the researcher. Make sure your name and address and phone number is on all copies sent.

5. Don't assume you have done all there is to do when there is no will or loose estate file for your ancestor. Look at the bound volumes, and always read the deeds. Some of the very best information can be found in deeds.

6. Always photocopy the documentation. Abstracts made quickly leave out much important information. Just by grouping the heirs by sex, you lose the value of the way they were listed in the will. Many times, the devisor began with his oldest and worked down to his youngest.

7. Don't assume you know everything when you find the will of an ancestor! Estate records reveal children born after the will was written plus the married names of females and their husbands. If a child of the devisor had died, his children would also be heirs and, if young, an estate might not be settled for many years. Don't be scared off by a date you feel might be too late.

8. Don't give up! Particularly in NC. So much is being printed from bound volumes that are not indexed as well as loose records. Keep checking the libraries for more on NC.

9. Do join genealogical societies in the areas in which you are researching. Other members may be working on the same line. Place queries in the publications, and get involved in workshops. It is always a learning process!

10. Don't look at court minutes as a last resort! They are a source for answers to many questions. A case in point: John Riggs died 1805 Craven County leaving a will but was evidently too ill to make a signature that could be recognized as the John Riggs who married Mary Beasley. There were a number of John Riggs in this county, and trying to sort them out was a real headache. The court minutes read for sometime prior to the death in 1805 revealed that he was John Riggs, Justice of the Peace and the husband of Mary Beasley. Reading official bonds, marriage bonds of the time period, and other official documents made it much easier to identify by signatures this particular John or James Riggs as the case might be. So always look for signatures everywhere. Another real find was the estate of a Justice of the Peace in Craven County, Jeremiah Bateman. His file was two inches thick and was mostly court papers not applicable to his estate.

11. Don't be discouraged when reading microfilm indexes for deeds when you don't find your ancestor. If the name is an unusual name in a particular county and there may not be many by that surname, it will be found in the miscellaneous index. This is usually defined by the beginning letters such as RI for Riggs, or BR for Briggs, etc.

12. Do remember that the Soundex Index for the 1880 Federal Census includes only families with children under the age of ten years old.

Immigration Papers

Source: Henry County Genealogical Society, The Illuminator, Zion Genealogical Society, Vol. 6, No. 1

Many immigrants filed their Declaration of Intent at the Port of Entry in the United States. Prior to 1890 this step was completed on Castle Green Island. These records are being held at Bayonne, New Jersey Records Center. Before September 6, 1906, check with the court nearest to where your ancestor settled to find the final papers.

If it occurred after 1906, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, 425 I Street, NW, Washington, DC 20536 has an index that may be of help to you in locating the court where final papers were filed. Not all immigrants filed for citizenship.

Old Newspaper Terms

Source: North Carolina Genealogical Society Journal, May 1991

If you have ever read old newspapers on microfilm, there are two terms of which you may not have known the meaning.

When reporting the dates of events, editors often used the phrases inst. or ult. in conjunction with dates which are abbreviations of the Latin words instans., meaning "at present" or present month, and ultimo, meaning "occurring in the previous month." For example, "the 10th inst." would mean the event occurred on the tenth day of the present month, while he 10th ult." would mean the event occurred on the tenth day of the prior or previous month.

Hillcrest Cemetery #2, also known as Apex (City) Cemetery

Apex, North Carolina
October 14, 1986 to November 5, 1987
Surveyed by Sally Gwinn and Marcia Masser

The original land owner of this cemetery was Adelaide UPCHURCH. Originally, it was not a church cemetery but lay adjacent to the Apex Baptist Church graveyard. A parcel was conveyed from the church to the Town on 8 February 1910. Arthur H. ROGERS bought the remaining cemetery portion and deeded this to the Town on 26 May 1944. On 7 March 1995, the Apex Town Board of Commissioners adopted an ordinance to rename the cemetery "Apex Cemetery" and to establish a section as the S. S. ROGERS Section, which is still owned by the ROGERS family.

Apex lies between US 1 and US 64 to the west of Raleigh. NC 55 intersects US 1 and US 64, running north and south and passes through Apex where it becomes Williams Street which runs past the cemetery. The cemetery is in fairly good condition though some stones have deteriorated with time.

[Note: A single date on a marker, with no positive indicators of being either a birth or death date, is assumed to be a death date, since this is a cemetery, and is entered in the death column. If age at death is given, deceased was 2 days old or age 84, no birth dates are calculated from this data and inserted in the record. It should not be assumed that infants with a single date were born and died on the same date, nor should it be assumed that a surviving spouse of a deceased person, whose stone was pre-inscribed (except for death date), when the marker of the deceased was made, is actually buried in the cemetery. The surviving spouse may have remarried, moved, been buried elsewhere, or is buried here but had no survivors; or family neglected to complete the inscription or lacked funds to do so.]

IGI Research

Source: Champaign CGS Ohio, Jan/Feb/Mar 1995

When using the 1992 edition of the IGI, researchers should not overlook the “Country Unknown” section. It contains 738,097 entries on 54 Microfiche with place names that were unrecognized by the computer. Although the majority of the place names can be identified by the reader, misplaced commas, unusual abbreviations, or the place name not having been entered in the correct order caused the computer to sort into the “Country Unknown” section. This section can be from any part of the world and may contain information submitted long ago that has since been lost.
