WAKE COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC (WCGS) was organized in April 1982 to promote genealogical study and research, to serve as a medium of exchange of genealogical or historical information, to encourage the preservation of genealogical or historical records, to provide cultural, educational, and social opportunities involving genealogy. In 1983 WCGS was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the laws of the State of North Carolina.

MEMBERSHIP: Membership is open to anyone with an interest in the purposes of WCGS as stated above. The membership year is from January 1 through December 31. Annual dues for new members are $20.00 for individuals and institutions and $25.00 for families (two people, related by blood or marriage residing at the same address). A former charter member can rejoin for a fee of $15.00 - a one-time option.

MEETINGS: WCGS meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month except in June, July, August, and December. Meetings begin at 7:00 PM and visitors are welcomed. The current meeting place is Westover United Methodist Church, 300 Powell Dr, Raleigh, NC.

CORRESPONDENCE: All correspondence should be sent to WCGS, PO Box 17713, Raleigh, NC 27619-7713. For a fee of $5.00, you may request up to one hour of research by the "Please Help Me" Committee.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS: Please notify WCGS of a change of address as soon as it is known so that your journals and other WCGS communications will reach you in a timely manner. There is a $3.00 charge for remailing returned journals. Postage costs for returns have more than doubled since October 1995 and continue to increase in small increments.

WAKE TREASURES is the journal of WCGS and is free to members. One copy is sent for each Family Membership. Bi-annual issues are identified as Winter/Spring, and Summer/Fall.

EDITORIAL POLICY: Emphasis will be on unpublished, primary source documents with historical or genealogical significance for Wake County, NC. Primary source documents from counties from which large numbers of inhabitants migrated into Wake County may be used provided there is no Genealogical or Historical Society serving that county. Articles emphasizing methodology, instructions and "lessons learned" will be welcomed. Manuscripts about Wake County residents, past and present will be accepted. Wake County family cemetery surveys and Bible records will be used as space allows. Articles will reflect a balance regarding time periods and needs of both the novice and the experienced genealogists.

Manuscripts submitted will be judged on style, clarity, consistency, documentation and general appeal to the membership. References used to compile the manuscript must be included. (Send SASE to Editor for guidelines.)

Book reviews will be published for authors or publishers who donate the book to the WCGS library and for publications recommended by members which are pertinent to Wake County or of general genealogical interest. Books are then donated by the society to the Olivia Raney Library.

Neither WCGS nor the Journal Committee shall be held responsible for content, punctuation and/or spelling errors in manuscripts. Such errors are the sole responsibility of the contributor. Documented corrections of content errors, submitted to the Journal Editor, will appear in a later issue.

QUERIES: Members may submit an unlimited number of queries at no additional charge. Queries are accepted from non-members at $2.00 per query. For an extra $5.00, non-members can request a copy of the journal in which their paid queries were included. It is helpful when queries are submitted on a Wake Treasures Query Form. Queries are subject to editing and will be printed as space permits. Requests for Query Forms (send a SASE) and query submissions should be addressed to Query Editor at the address printed above. You may also xerox the query form in the insert placed in the center of the journal when more than one copy is needed.

PERMISSION TO QUOTE: Permission to reproduce or quote from an article published in any issue of Wake Treasures must be obtained in writing from the author(s). Write to the specific author in care of the WCGS address above.

BACK ISSUES: Past issues of Wake Treasures are sold only in volume sets. Volumes I through V are now available. See insert for price and other details.

From the Co-Editors

Harriette & Madlyn

It seems we are forever apologizing for being late with the journal, but that is what happens when you start getting old. Harriette developed ulcers from medication for osteoporosis and has been under the weather, but others have been working while she has been recuperating.

We are adding a series of computer articles in this journal and plan to have others in later issues. Let us know if these are helpful to you. Be sure to check the table of contents for the Listing of Wake County Cemeteries by Township that have been surveyed.

Kay Roberds, who has been abstracting newspaper items for the journal is moving to Gulfport, MS at the end of May, and we will miss her. She has already checked to see what societies are available in the area, so we know she will be hard at work in another group soon. Thank you, Kay, for your contributions and dedication to Wake Treasures and the WCGS society.

We need a volunteer to abstract newspapers! Call Harriette Riggs at 919 / 787-2770.

Some changes have been made to the inside of the front and back covers, so be sure to read those pages.

There were some errors in page numbers in the index for Deaths in the previous journal. This was called to our attention by a member who called Harriette, or it would probably not have been noticed. We are working with different computers and printers. The Deaths are marked for the index by Mary Alice Hale, and she prints the file after she has been given a page number. The file is then copied into Harriette's computer, and the index is generated. Something happens at this point. Even though a copy of the index generated for the Deaths with page numbers was given to Harriette to make sure it remained the same, it didn't. We will be more careful!

A correction of those page numbers is being included, so be sure to mark your copy to reflect the changes for your future use.

We are fortunate to have such a large and dedicated staff who contribute so much to make this journal a success. Thanks to each of you!

We have been very fortunate to have Elizabeth "Betty" Dees as our Query Editor for a number of years. She also has been the researcher for the "Please Help Me" Committee and writing columns for the journal. She has resigned her positions because of health problems, but we hope she'll be able to do a column now and then. Betty, we wish you the best and thank you so much for your years of dedication and service to our society.

Betty Jackan has agreed to be our new Query Editor, and we look forward to working with her. Thank you, Betty!

CORRECTION: Please refer to Vol. V, No. II, Summer/Fall 1995 and make the following changes. Page 62—2nd line, begin with 3rd word: mark through "and a former mayor." 3rd line near the end, mark through "Charlie" and write "Oscar." Harriette apologizes for the error and is grateful to Olivia McNeil for calling it to her attention.

A beginning article on Slave Narratives has been added to this journal. They are very interesting and certainly give you a graphic picture of what slavery was like, both the bad and the good aspects of it, if there were any good aspects at all.

We have heard members say they don't read the journal because they don't have any Wake County ancestors. There are articles of methodology, and ideas can be gained for your own research in other locations. We, literally, slave over this journal to make it the best we can. Please don't ever let us hear you say, "I don't read it."

Halbert's Under Cease and Desist Order

Reprinted from National Genealogical Society Newsletter, March/April 1996, Volume 22, Number 2

Halbert's, Inc., of Bath, Ohio, a mail order firm that markets surname products, has agreed to the provisions of a cease and desist order issued by the United States Postal Service (USPS) in November 1995. "Halbert's," "Family Book Offer" and "Historic Book Offer" are trade names used by Numa Corporation of Akron, Ohio.

On 23 March 1995, the National Genealogical Society (NGS), with the support of the Federation of Genealogical Societies (FGS), submitted to the United States Postal Service's Chief Counsel, Consumer Protection, a 120-page report on Halbert's marketing practices with the request that these practices be investigated.

NGS and FGS also launched a "grass roots" campaign to encourage the participation and cooperation of genealogists nationwide. A brochure and companion flyer entitled "PSSST! Wanna Buy Your Name?" were mailed to genealogical societies and libraries. Societies were asked to reprint the cartoon and brochure text in their newsletters. Librarians were asked to post the flyer on their bulletin boards. As a result, many people wrote to NGS and its Ethics Committee about the solicitation materials they had received from Halbert's, and others wrote directly to the U.S. Postal Inspection Service.

On 21 November 1995, the U.S. Postal Service issued a supplemental cease and desist order prohibiting Halbert's from further use of certain misleading marketing practices, which included a consent agreement signed by Halbert's. Previous cease and desist orders issued against Halbert's in 1985 and 1988 remain in effect.

The supplemental order issued in November 1995 includes the following provisions:

- Halbert's was ordered to cease and desist from falsely representing "... that (1) a solicitation for a surname-related product was sent by a relative of the solicitee; (2) a relative of a solicitee was involved in preparing a surname-related publication; or that (3) a relative of a solicitee endorses a surname-related product." The Postal Service contended that the company's solicitations, which advertised books as The World Book of [surname] and The [surname] Since the Civil War, violated the 1988 consent agreement, because they appeared to be letters from relatives of the addressees urging them to purchase a recently completed book on their family.

- Halbert's was ordered to begin displaying prominently the following disclaimer on any advertising for surname-related publications: "No direct genealogical connection to your family or ancestry is implied or intended."
- Halbert's was ordered to cease and desist from "...representing directly or indirectly," that advertising has been approved by the United States Postal Service.

The consent agreement entered into by Halbert's in November 1995 contains several other provisions. Halbert's may submit proposed advertising to the USPS General Counsel not more than three times per calendar year to obtain an opinion on whether the advertising violates cease and desist orders. Halbert's must pay $2,000 for each submission to defray investigative, administrative, and legal costs incurred by the Postal Service.

For a period of one year from the date of execution of the consent agreement, Halbert's must "... within ten (10) days after written request therefor, pay full and unconditional double cash refunds, including postage, handling, and deposits, to all consumers who have previously requested in writing to [Halbert's], and not received within thirty (30) days after the receipt of the written request therefor, refunds in connection with any and all surname-related solicitations in use prior to the date of [the consent agreement]." Halbert's must also accept and honor refund requests from the Better Business Bureau, the Postal Inspection Service, the Ohio Attorney General's Office, and any other duly constituted governmental entity which has received complaints from consumers about its promotions.

Under the 1988 cease and desist order, the following conduct by Halbert's is prohibited:

- Representing that a book is principally about a particular family name and the history of this family name
- Representing that a book contains information about someone's forebears and their emigration from Europe
- Representing that a book contains information about the heraldry and family crest of a particular family
- Representing that a book explains how a particular family got its surname
- Representing that a book explains why someone's forebears immigrated to the New World (the United States, Canada, and Australia)
- Representing that a book explains why persons with a particular surname immigrated to the new world

- Representing that a book is the result of research through numerous sources by themselves, or someone acting in their behalf, to compile information on persons with the addressee's surname who immigrated to the New World

The postal Service has advised NGS that Halbert's is a member of the Direct Marketing Association and participates in the Mail Preference Service. Anyone who does not wish to receive future mailings from Halbert's can have their name deleted from the company's mailing list by writing to:

North Carolina Ties?

Those who know of North Carolina ties, but do not know the county of origin of their ancestors, should consult the NC Genealogical Society Journal which has been published since 1975. Also, check your library for two other volumes to possibly locate your ancestor. Index to North Carolina Ancestors, Volume I and Volume II. When you know the county, you can then take a look at the following book:

The North Carolina Genealogical Directory: A Listing of Tar Heel Societies and Selected Books for Sale, by R. S. Spencer, Jr., 1992, soft cover, 8½"×11", 231 pages, maps. SALE PRICE: $20.

This useful handbook provides a listing of every genealogical society in North Carolina. Included are the society name, address, newsletter, journal, and publications for sale for each of North Carolina's 100 counties, 9 nonextant counties, and societies of statewide interest.

The Importance of Backups

By Jerry J. Lewis

You purchase of a new computer. Perhaps it comes preinstalled with software, or you spend hours installing software. Then you spend hours selecting your favorite screen saver, background, etc. You cannot afford to lose that software or the hours you spent customizing your computer. Many people do not realize that hard disks fail, but if it happens once, you will remember it forever.

A full backup of your hard disk(s) consists of everything on your system so it can be used to rebuild your system if your hard disk fails. However, a full backup takes too much time and work to make one everyday, so they are seldom current. A full backup should always be stored far away from your computer and be protected from fire. A safety deposit box is the best place. Moreover, you might want to keep a second copy of your full backup at home, but never store your own copy at home.

A partial backup is anything less than a full backup. Usually it consists of one or more files or directories ("folders" for Macintosh users) that are likely to change and are very important to you but not critical to using your computer. They are created much faster than a full back up and should be performed much more often. These backups are most useful when you have deleted one or more files that cannot be undeleted. They are also handy after restoring a full backup (usually after a complete disk failure).

An incremental backup is a partial backup consisting only of files that have changed since the last backup. This is less risk if you are uncertain what has changed. However, it can take longer to perform since all files must be examined, and some files change without you knowing. Specifically, operating systems like Macintosh, Windows 95, Windows NT, and OS/2 save information about your desktop in files. So when you move an icon, its location is stored in a file so the next time you restart your computer, the icon will be in the same place as the last time you used it.

A non-incremental backup might include files that have not changed, but it does not necessarily include insignificant files that have changed. Of course, while this is often a faster backup, it is more risky since you might not backup everything you need.

After you determine what type of backup(s) you need, determine what resources are necessary to perform them. There is no single, easy answer to this question because of the lack of standards in the PC industry. So you should compare availability and price/performance with your needs to make a decision.

Often, tapes have been used for backups because they have been cheaper than hard disks, they are reliable, and they have the capacity to store large amounts of data. Furthermore, they are too slow to just throw a file on them when you want to give someone else a copy. Strangely, that is a good characteristic because you do not want to change what you have backed up. However, since home buyers have not been aware of the importance of backups and are working on a limited budget, tape drives are not often purchased by home users. While it is cheaper to purchase a second hard disk than to purchase a tape drive, it is too enticing to start using the backup hard disk as a primary hard disk. Also, unless you're using an external SCSI disk, you cannot simply remove the hard disk and store it in the bank vault.

There are two types of drives: IDE and SCSI. IDE drives are typically cheaper, but have limited capacity. Not only do SCSI drives have larger capacities, they can be externally chained. Specifically, you can add additional drives by simply plugging another one on the end – similar to Christmas lights. So, from one plug on the back of my Macintosh I have connected an external SCSI hard disk, which connects to an external SCSI CD-ROM. I have the ability to connect an external SCSI tape drive to the CD-ROM, and I can connect additional SCSI devices as needed. If I am using my PC, I simply unplug the CD-ROM from my Macintosh and connect it to my PC. If you need lots of options like what I have described, SCSI is better than IDE, but it will cost a little more.

So, if you have a SCSI adapter in your PC, perhaps you can take your PC to your computer provider who can quickly connect a tape drive and make a full backup of your system – assuming that is legal. I would not necessarily recommend getting a SCSI adapter and drives to perform an occasional backup. Instead, you might be able to find a fairly inexpensive IDE tape drive.

If you are not performing a full backup, there are much cheaper options. For example, there are utilities that will perform backups across floppy diskettes. Specifically, if a given floppy fills up, your backup will continue on the next diskette. The DOS utility called BACKUP does this, but it is awkward to use. Norton Utilities provide more backup functionality and is easier to use. The only problem with floppies is that their capacity is so small, and it takes a lot of them to perform a backup.

Another consideration for what type of backup media you use is its volatility. Specifically, if you use diskettes, you can destroy your backup by setting the diskette near any magnetic device such as printers, telephones, monitors, etc. If you could perform backups on a CD-ROM, they would be safer than with diskettes because they cannot be erased by magnets. However, they are more easily broken if you accidentally sit on one. Also, CD-ROMs can be written only once (i.e., they are not recyclable), and it is quite expensive to purchase a drive than can write them. In the future, optical drives might be the best media, but currently, they are still too expensive. There are other types of transportable disks that have larger capacities than diskettes. However, there are no standards in this area, so a given service provider may not be able to read these disks.

The next concern is how often you should backup. I have already indicated that this depends on the type of backup you are doing, but it also depends on how much risk you can accept. A full backup could be performed once in the lifetime of a computer. However, you might perform a full backup every time you add a new software product. While you should keep an additional copy of the installation disks, you do not want to lose your configuration for them. Incremental backups could be performed once a week or once a month. Partial backups could be performed anywhere between once in six months to twice a day, depending on how much you would lose if your current project is corrupted.

There is one serious problem with performing a full backup and/or restore. Some of the files that you are trying to backup/restore are operating system files, so they are actively being used while the system is running. Therefore, special measures are needed. For example, if you boot DOS and then backup your Windows NT PC, assuming it was formatted as a FAT file system, then you have successfully performed a full backup. However, if you could boot DOS on your Windows 95 computer, you would be unable to backup the Windows 95 files because they are in a different format than what DOS recognizes. Therefore, you will have to read the instructions for your operating system and backup software to know what procedures to follow for full backups. Again, this will certainly be easier to have a service provider do this for you, if possible. Fortunately, partial backups and most incremental backups are far easier and faster than full backups.

Type	Drive Cost/Capacity	Media Cost/Capacity	Notes
Magnetic Tape		$7 / 2G
CD-ROM	$1,200 / 600M	$10 / 600M	write to only once
Optical Disk	$500 / 230M	$40 / 230M
Diskettes	comes with PC	$.05 /
External Hard Disk	varies greatly	N/A	great deals but bulk; price varies by type
Removable Disks	varies greatly	varies	great variety: Zip, Syquest, Iomega, Bernoulli

While there are lots of backup/restore options, do not procrastinate in developing a backup strategy. Also, consult your favorite computer magazine for more information. If you're lucky, you'll never have to thank me for this advice.

Disk Maintenance

By Jerry J. Lewis

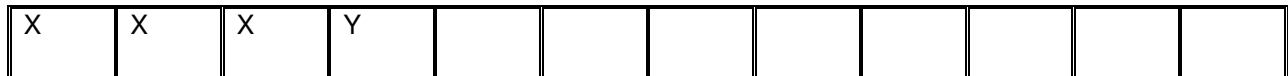

Hopefully, you perform periodical housekeeping. You should be doing the same for your hard disk to get much faster and more reliable performance from it.

Most likely, you are unaware that files are stored in pieces. The actual size of these pieces varies depending on how your disk is configured. On some disks, they are 256 bytes. On others, they are 512 bytes. The actual size is not important, but once configured, the size cannot change.

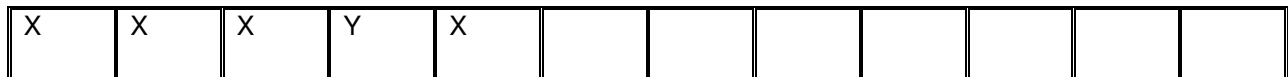

Below is a diagram of a disk where each block represents a unit of storage. Assume FileX was the first file I created, and it consists of three blocks labeled X.

Now, I create FileY, which consists of one block labeled Y.

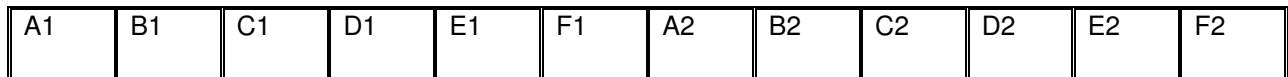

Now what happens if I add to FileX?

Notice that all parts of FileX are not next to ether other (i.e., contiguous). This is a problem called fragmenting. Over time, it gets worse because you delete from and add to existing files and create files.

Consider the following diagram of FileA, FileB, FileC, FileD, FileE, and FileF where ach file consists of two blocks.

Consider what happens if you were using WordPerfect, for example, and opened FileA and then FileB. WordPerfect would:

1. Move to the first part of FileA, block A1, and read it.
2. Skip blocks B1-F1 and read block A2.
3. Skip over blocks A2 and blocks F1-B2 to read block B1.
4. Skip over blocks C1-A2 to read block B2.

That is a lot of jumping around instead of reading the file. Sometimes, you can hear this jumping around as the mechanism (similar to the needle on a record player) moves back and forth. People often refer to this as the "popcorn popping" sound that occurs when the computer is reading or writing to the disk. It causes no problems other than unnecessary wear on the mechanism, and it slows down reads and writes. Remember, during all of this jumping around, you are waiting for the file to be opened.

There are defragmenting utilities that solve this problem by reorganizing your disk. For example, after running a defragmenting utility, the above disk diagram becomes:

A1	A2	B1	B2	C1	C2	D1	D2	E1	E2	F1	F2
----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----	----

In the above example, WordPerfect can now:

1. Move to block A1 and read it.
2. Read block A2.
3. Read block B1.
4. Read block B2

Clearly, this was much easier on the hard disk and means you wait less time.

Most disk utilities perform other reorganizations that make reading and writing much faster. Some perform benchmark tests on your disk. There are also utilities that perform diagnostics on your hard disk to help you anticipate failures. You should run these periodically – maybe once a month and no less often than once every six months.

There are a variety of maintenance utilities that will reorganize your disk. Norton Utilities is one of the oldest. However, there are a number of products available. Consult with your software vendor to purchase disk utilities that are most appropriate for your needs and your computer system.

While other parts on a computer can fail, they can be replaced with little impact. If your hard disk fails, you might lose valuable information in the process. Meanwhile, how long will you sit there waiting for the popcorn to pop?

Compressing and Archiving Files

By Jerry J. Lewis

Sometimes computer files are larger than convenient. For example, have you ever tried to copy a file that is larger than 2MB to a diskette that holds only 2MB? If you use the Internet or commercial online service such as America Online, Compuserve, etc., you have waited longer for larger files to download (copy from a remote computer to yours). These files can be made smaller by compressing them.

Sometimes you want to store a group of files together. For example, if I want to store all of my LEWIS genealogy files together, I can create a directory (or “folder” if you use Macintosh), but I am simply making a backup of all those files, a directory is not the most convenient method for storing them. Multiple files can be store together by archiving them.

Files are usually archived and compressed to facilitate transporting them. The online services archive files so that everything required for a particular program is kept together. For example, the program itself, the documentation, and the registration form are all being treated as one file until you unarchive it. Also, compressed files take less space on the online service provider's disk and are faster for you to download. However, archiving and compressing are not limited to use with online services, and they have nothing to do with using a modem.

Before describing more about compression and archival, I should mention that several related topics will not be discussed in this article:

- Encryption is changing a file so that no one other than your intended audience can use it. Anyone with the appropriate tools and information may unencrypt your files. Genealogists are typically interested more in publication than secrecy, so encryption will not be discussed here.

- There are utilities that compress your entire hard disk – not just a few files. Their purpose is solely to save disk space rather than to facilitate transferring files to diskettes or over a modem.
 - Binary files that are transmitted over some networks can be uuencoded and uudecoded, but this is into a topic related to archival and compression.

There is no universal standard for archiving and compressing files. Subsequently, there is no one way to perform these operations, and there are restrictions for using archived and compressed files. For example: There is no way for WordPerfect to know whether or not a file is compressed and if so, what method was used. Therefore, if a file has been archived and compressed, you must unarchive and uncompress it before WordPerfect can use it. Also, the lack of a universal standard implies that the archival and compression tools you will use depend upon which operating system you use and, if trying to use an already archived and compressed file, which type of archival and compression method or tool was used previously on the file.

If you are using DOS, OS/2, or Windows (e.g., Windows NT, Windows 95), the most popular tool is PKZIP which is a product of the PKWARE company. When you download a file, if PKZIP were used, the file extension is usually ZIP. For example, if my LEWIS genealogy files were archived and compressed using PKZIP, its file name might be LEWIS.ZIP. PKZIP archives and compresses files in one step, and its complement, PKUNZIP, unarchives and uncompresses files in one step. You can always issue the command PKZIP-H to have PKZIP give you an overview of its help (esp. the syntax to use the command). To archive and compress FILE1, FILE2, and FILE3 into an archive named MYFILE.ZIP, you might issue the command:

PKZIP-A MYFILE FILE1 FILE2 FILE3

Note that PKZIP does not destroy the originals, FILE1, FILE2, and FILE3, in the process of archiving and compressing.

To view the contents of MYFILE.ZIP, issue the command:

PKZIP-V MYFILE

To unarchive and uncompress everything in this file, issue the command:

PKUNZIP-V MYFILE

The rest of this article is dedicated to other operating systems, but you should continue reading even if you do not use them because you might receive a file that was archived or compressed on another operating system and you will need to understand how to handle them. In each case, your best option is if your archival and compression software handles formats other than its own. However, you might need to recognize these formats, which is usually accomplished by looking at the file.

Files with an extension of .SIT or .SEA were most likely archived and compressed on a Macintosh using Stuffit by Alladin Systems, Inc. A .SIT file is an archived and compressed file, and a .SEA file is a self-extracting archive. There are several versions of Stuffit. Stuffit Lite simply allows you to archive and compress files. I use Stuffit Deluxe which handles PKZIP files and the most popular UNIX compressed files.

If you find files with an extension of .Z, they are most likely compressed files from a computer running the UNIX operating system. Not many people knowingly have access to a computer that runs the UNIX operating system. However, the Internet was based on technology that was originally developed for UNIX, so there are many UNIX computers on the Internet, and you will certainly access them at some time. Archived files usually have the extension of .TAR. In UNIX, files are archived with a utility called "TAR," and compressed with another called "COMPRESS."

The UNIX utilities TAR and COMPRESS are a part of the UNIX operating system. In contrast PKZIP and StuffIt are not part of the operating system, so you need to purchase them separately. I am not promoting PKZIP or StuffIt, and I only mention them because they are so widely used in the PC and Macintosh world. Now that you are familiar with the topic of archival and compression, the best way to select a utility is to read the reviews in computer magazines or ask your favorite software vendor. You will be pleasantly pleased that these utilities are inexpensive for the service they perform.

Buying a New Computer

By Harriette Riggs

Doing your homework in order to determine which features you want and/or need in a new computer is quite time consuming. Do I want Windows 95? or should I stick with DOS which I have used for years?

First of all, DOS only moves 8 or 16 bits of data at a time. Most new computers run at least 32 bits of data. Windows 95 runs on 32 bits and can do multiple tasks also. For example: print from one file and work in another one at the same time. (I remember the night my computer and printer ran from 11:30 to 1:30 PM the next day to print 11 pages of tables.)

Do I want to learn Windows 95? Do I want to learn to use a Mouse—EEK! Or do I want to stick to my keyboard only? What a tradeoff! To get multitasking and other advantages, I have to learn Windows 95 and use a mouse! Guess that's why I'm dragging my feet about the change. Not ready to do all that studying!

Converting Files

Each word processor has a procedure for converting files from one type of text file to another text file. For example: WordPerfect can convert Word to a file than can usually be used by WordPerfect. It does, however, change the formatting, so it is better to simply create a text file and leave the formatting to the person using WordPerfect, as in the case for the WCGS journal Wake Treasures.

Missing Ancestors in 1850?

Forsyth County Genealogical Society, August 1933

Did they seem to have just disappeared? You should check the 1850 California Census as more than 50,000 people went by land and more by ship to search for gold. The 1852 California State Census asked their residence and most answered with the name of the state from which they came. By 1855, 23,000 of these people had moved on or returned to their former homes. Good luck!

Divorce Records, Wake County Superior Court 1831-1952 (Part 3)

Abstracted by Jocelyn P. Powell

The first item, Bagwell versus Bagwell, was filed in the middle of Box C.R.099.604.3 but should have been in 604.2; it has now been placed in the proper box by Archives personnel.

BAGWELL, John G. vs. Lottie A. BAGWELL

Final judgment rendered, divorce, custody of children, and court costs granted to PI during spring term 1874. PI stated that about 16 October 1865 PI and Def were married, and were residents of NC at the time of the court action. He alleged that in December 1871 and January and February 1872 Def committed adultery with one Jasper UTLEY in Chapel Hill. In March 1872 Def eloped with the said Jasper UTLEY, abandoning the PI and their children, viz. Florence B. BAGWELL, age 6; Fred R. BAGWELL, 4; and Cory J. BAGWELL, 2. Following this abandonment Def lived openly with Mr. UTLEY and in "open and notorious prostitution...in the town of Wilson in Wilson Co in this State." PI sued for divorce, custody of children, and court costs. Def was sought in Wayne, Wilson, and Lenoir counties, and the following persons were summoned to give evidence: Washington A. DAVIS, Jesse M. BATTLE, Mrs. Fannie HOWARD, Samuel HORN, S. M. BARBER, Jr., Jasper UTLEY, M. W. DAVIS. The case was first dismissed in the belief that the Superior Court did not have jurisdiction, but this decision was reversed during January term 1874 and final judgment rendered and divorce granted on 6 April 1874. (Wilson Co. Sheriff's office reported that "There is no Washington A. DAVIS in Wilson Co. but there is a Miles Washington DAVIS, a boot maker in the town of Wilson; he came from Chapel Hill.")

The following cases are found in C.R.099.604.2, and complete the abstractions from that box:

BAKER, Andrew vs. Annie BAKER

"This cause coming on to be heard and it appearing to the Court that this action was tried at the April Term 1901 and the issues were answered in favor of the plaintiff", but no judgment was signed, it is thereupon ORDERED AND ADJUDGED AND DECREED, that the plaintiff and defendant be absolutely divorced in that the bonds of matrimony existing between the plaintiff and defendant be annulled and dissolved as of the April Term 1901." JUDGMENT NUNC PRO TUNC, second February term 1924. PI alleged that on __ May 1888 at Raleigh, Wake Co., he was married to the Def. In January 1900 in Raleigh and at other times and places both before and since, Def committed adultery with one Larkin HALL and was at time of complaint pregnant with child. Complaint brought 4 February 1901.

BAKER, Cora vs. Clyde BAKER

Divorce granted second January term 1938. PI stated that she was resident of Wake Co. and Def a resident of Chatham Co. They were married on 23 November 1932 in Raleigh and separated on 15 August 1935. According to summons, Clyde BAKER worked on Clyde CASTLEBERRY's Farm near the Wake Co. line in Chatham Co.

BAKER, Flora Barbour vs. Charlie Gidman BAKER

Divorce granted during third September term 1935. PI stated that she was a resident of Wake Co and the Def was a resident of Johnston Co, NC. They were married about 1 July 1908 and lived together until 11 June 1933. PI stated that the Def "deliberately drove the plaintiff away from home, without just cause."

BAKER, John vs. Mamie BAKER

The divorce was granted during September term 1919. According to complaint, PI and Def were married in Wake Co in March 1914 and lived together until some time during May 1916 when the Def, without cause or excuse, abandoned PI. PI had been a resident of NC and of Wake Co all of his life. During the marriage and all along during the years 1914, 1915 and 1916 Def committed adultery with one James HOLLOWAY in the city of Raleigh. The Def was not found in Wake Co nor in the state of NC.

BAKER, L. C. vs. Rosa Jones BAKER

Divorce granted on 18 Sept 1933. PI alleged that he had been a resident of NC for more than a year. The PI and Del were married on 8 August 1925 in Raleigh and lived together until 1 May 1928 when the Def abandoned PI.

The following records are found in Box C.R.099.604.3:

BAKER, Mancy vs. Solon BAKER

Divorce was granted during October term 1910. PI alleged that on 16 December 1903 she and Def were married in Wake Co. and both of them had lived in Wake Co. all their lives. They had two female children, Alvarago BAKER aged about 4 years, and Willie May BAKER aged about 2 years. At time of complaint Alvarago was in file custody of the Def and Willie May in the custody of the PI. For 2 years after the marriage the Def treated the PI well but then began to mistreat the PI e.g., cursing and abusing her, accusing her of infidelity and coming home intoxicated. On one occasion Def drove PI away from his home and told her to stay away from there. PI took the 2 children and went to her father's home. Sometime during May or June 1908 Def in company with one Dock YOUNG came to the home of PI's father armed with a gun and assaulted PI and her mother, taking the older child as well as all of the PI's clothing. PI indicated that Def's lifestyle was such that his home was totally unfit as a place of residence for a female child. PI prayed for a judgment for divorce, alimony, and custody of the child Alvarado. The Def filed a cross complaint denying mistreating his wife, stating that she became indifferent towards him and that her conduct caused the Def to suspect that she was unfaithful to him. Lela PERRY, a sister of the PI, came to live with Def and his wife and was delivered of a bastard child about January 1905. The sister was sent to the house of her father, Joel PERRY, during her pregnancy, then sent back to the home of Mancy and Solon. Eventually the sister was asked to leave, and Mancy insisted on leaving with her. This answer to the PI's original complaint contains a long saga of inappropriate behavior on the part of PI, her relatives and friends. The court ruled that PI committed adultery with Dock YOUNG, Rush VANN, and divers other persons unknown to Def as alleged in the cross complaint. The custody of Alvarado BAKER was awarded to the Def, Solon BAKER.

BAKER, Mary Ethel vs. J. H. BAKER

The divorce was granted during January 1931. According to the complaint, PI and Def were married in Wake Co. on 8 July 1900. About 10 March 1927 Def committed adultery with one Mrs. Ida TIPPETT in Wake Forest, NC. J. H. BAKER was not found in Wake Co. nor in the state of NC to receive court summons. PI had been a resident of NC for more than 2 years prior to court action.

BAKER, Muriel E. vs. H. L. BAKER

The divorce was granted on 28 November 1934. PI alleged that she had resided continuously in Wake Co. for more than two years and that Def was a resident of Vance Co. NC at the time. PI and Def were married in Holly Springs (Wake Co.) NC on 26 October 1924. About 25 March 1934 Def entered the bedroom of one Myrtle JONES, 111 Bart St. Raleigh, and therein committed adultery with her. Summons was addressed to H. L. BAKER c/o Ford Agency, Henderson, NC.

BAKER, N. T. vs. Maggie BAKER

PI failed to appear in court during October term 1906 and the suit was dismissed. In his complaint he stated that he and Def were married in Wake Co. on 13 May 1900. He was a resident of NC for more than 2 years prior to this action. Sometime during September or October of 1905 PI was informed that his wife was committing adultery with one Jas. BRANTON, and she subsequently left the house. She returned to the house and left again several times. On April 1 1906 Def finally abandoned her home, her children, and her husband. Spencer HAITHCOCK, Geo. LANGLEY, and Jack HESTER were summoned to give testimony in this matter.

BAKER, Pauline Carroll vs. Arthur Herman BAKER

PI submitted to a "voluntary nonsuit" in court on 11 May 1937 "on account of accidental death of the Defendant." The complaint stated that PI had been a resident of Wake Co. for more than 2 years. The PI and Def were married on 24 Feb 1934 in Raleigh, and the Def soon began engaging in "intemperate conduct which became habitual”: he repeatedly subjected the PI to indignities and humiliations so as to make life intolerable for her. PI separated from Def during 1st week of Dec 1934.

BAKER, Richard vs. Marzilla BAKER

Divorce granted during February term 1908. The PI stated that he and the Def were married in Nash Co. NC in March 1901, the PI prior to that time being a resident of Wake Co. and the Def a resident of Nash Co. They lived in Rocky Mount for a short time after their marriage until Nov 1901 when the PI caught the Def in an act of adultery with one John ROBERSON. She was also believed to have committed adultery with John Oliver HILLIARD and with others whose names were unknown to PI. PI returned to Wake Co.; whereabouts of Def not known.

BAKER, Ruth vs. Lewis BAKER

Divorce was granted during August term 1937. The complaint stated that both PI and Def were residents of Wake Co. They were married about 5 Mar 1931 in New York City and lived together until about 1 Mar 1934, at which time they agreed to separate. They had 1 child who would be 5 years old on 18 Feb 1937; PI had custody of the child, and the Def contributed to the child's support. (On some of the court papers the Def's name was changed to Leuis BAKER.)

BAKER, Sylvester vs. Tessie BAKER

Marriage annulled during 1st April term 1918. The complaint states that PI and Def were married at Wakefield, Wake Co. on 8 Nov 1914 and lived together until March 1916. The Def had committed adultery with “Numerous persons” (sic) prior to and since their separation, and especially with one Burtis TAYLOR and one Nathan SPIVEY. The PI had resided in NC for 2 years preceding the initiation of the action.

BALDWIN, Farlo vs. Mattie BALDWIN

Action dismissed during 2nd February term 1928. PI was a resident of Wake Co. and the Def a resident of Moore Co. NC. PI and Def were married about 11 Nov 1912 in Wake Co. They lived together until about March 1916 when Def deserted PI. The couple had 2 children, a girl about 7 years old and a boy about 5 who were residing with Def. The summons indicates that Mattie BALDWIN was living at or near Cameron, NC in 1920. The PI failed to appear for the court hearing.

BALDWIN, John vs. Amanda BALDWIN

During Feb term 1923 the action was abated since the summons was issued “many years ago” (in 1920); either party could bring a new action within 1 year. The PI alleged that he and Def had been residents of Wake Co. for more than 2 years. They had been married in Chatham Co. NC on 10 Sep 1907 and lived together until 1912, when they separated. About 1919 and at various other times both before and after that date, the Def committed adultery with one Moses CANNADY and with various other persons. Since the separation the Def had given birth to 3 children, none of them fathered by the PI.

BALL, Jesse G. Jr. vs. Catharine Byrd BALL

Divorce granted 12 June 1933. PI stated that he had been a resident of the State of NC for over 2 years and at time of the complaint was a resident of Wake Co. He and Def were married at Roxboro (Person Co.) NC on 18 June 1921. About 30 Aug 1930 the Def is alleged to have abandoned PI. The summons for Catharine BALL was delivered to Guilford Co.

BALL, Marion Rachel Baker vs. Robert Ashley BALL, aka “Peanut” BALL

Divorce granted during January 28th term, 1929. PI stated that she had been a resident of Wake Co. for more than 4 years. NC on 27 October 1924 and lived together for only about 4 weeks. They had one child, Robert Baker BALL, who was in the custody of the PI; mother and child lived at the YWCA in Raleigh for most of the 4 years following the separation, and the father had not contributed to the child's support. Def "never paid any attention to her husband in his attempts to persuade her to stay at home and look after her home and child." The couple had one child, Cecil Earl BALLANCE, age 3½ at the time of the complaint. PI sued for custody of child, who was at the time in his custody. The Def was not found in NC nor, apparently, in Washington, DC. The judgment did not speak to the issue of child custody.

W. BREWER responded: "The summons you sent me against Brack BALLENTINE alias George BALLENTINE is in Wake Co. near Holley Springs; you said he stayed with Mrs. BECKWITH and it was Mrs. HARRINGTON." Summons returned, and B. F. BOOTHE, postmaster at Goff, NC wrote that "Def has been near this place living for some time until this spring (1887). He left his employer (and) I don't know where he is at present."

BANISTER, Grace vs. Boothe BANISTER

BARBER, P. B. vs. Buelah BARBER

PI failed to appear in court and the action was dismissed during 2nd Feb term 1928. PI alleged that he was a resident of Wake Co. and had been a resident of NC all his life except while in the US Army during the late war (WWI) with Germany. PI did not know where Def resided but her last known residence was in Atlanta, GA in July 1920. While PI was stationed in Atlanta he married Def there on 8 April 1920. PI believed that Def committed adultery. When he learned of this misconduct, on 13 July, PI left Def and had not seen her since.

BARBOUR, Bessie J. vs. Jacob BARBOUR

Action was dismissed during 2nd Feb term 1928 due to PI's failure to appear in court. PI stated that she and Def were married about 25 February 1920 and lived together in the city of Raleigh until sometime in the spring of 1924. They had a daughter, Fannie Katherine BARBOUR, who was born about 18 May 1923; she was in custody of the PI. About April 1924 Def left NC with a "lewd woman" named Estel MYERS. PI stated that she overlooked Def's infidelities for the sake of their daughter and on Def's promise to change his ways, but since his departure he had not contributed to the support of his wife and daughter.

BARBOUR, Charles T. vs. Minnie Coles BARBOUR

Divorce granted during April term 1914. According to PI, he and Def married on 15 August 1911 in Norfolk, VA. PI a resident of NC for more than 2 years prior to action. Def abandoned PI in Sep 1911. During Oct 1911 Def entered the house of prostitution conducted by one Rosa BURNETT in Norfolk, VA, and became an inmate.

BARBOUR, Clarence B. vs. Emma E. BARBOUR

Divorce was granted during December court term, 1917, and it was ordered "that the defendant, Emma E. BARBOUR, take nothing by her cross action and that the same be dismissed." PI complaint alleges that he and Def were married in Wake Co. in June 1911. At the time of the marriage the Def was pregnant and PI was ignorant of the pregnancy and was not the father of the child. On 1 Nov in Raleigh the Def gave birth to a fully developed child. Immediately thereafter the PI separated from Def. PI had been a resident of NC all his life. He requested that the marriage be annulled. Def filed a cross complaint stating that she and Def were married in Wake Co on 2 July 1911. She was pregnant at the time, but she denied that the PI was ignorant of the pregnancy and denied his statement that he was not the father of the child. The child was born on 5 Nov rather than 1 Nov 1911. Def stated that on 2 July 1911 she lived with her father about 9 miles SE of Raleigh and on that date eloped with the PI, marrying him in Garner on that date. They had been acquaintances and friends all their lives. About 9 months before the marriage they became engaged, eventually engaging in sexual intercourse at his insistence, she being "only 20 years old and very much in love and infatuated with the plaintiff." She became pregnant and he suggested that they marry immediately, not telling anyone of her pregnancy. He treated her as his wife and stated many times that he was the father of the child until 2 weeks after the birth of said child. The Def had not kept company with any other man for the 2 years prior to their marriage. When the child was about 2 weeks old the PI abandoned Def and their child and turned them out of doors in the city of Raleigh and had since failed to support them in any way. Def had no means of support and PI was a police officer in Raleigh with a salary of $75.00 per month and was able to provide for Def and his child. PI's answer was that he had had intercourse with Def on only 2 occasions prior to their marriage, in Dec 1910 and April 1911 and did not know of her pregnancy prior to the marriage. When he asked her, in front of witnesses, who the father could be, she stated that if it was not PI, it must have been her brother, John. Far from turning her out, he offered to help her return to her father's home but she refused his assistance. During January court term 1914 the judge ordered that Clarence BARBOUR provide support to Emma and the child in the amount of $20.00 per month. PI filed an amended complaint stating that Def continued to reside in Wake Co. with her father until Mar 1916 when she went to Richmond, VA. with the child and, on 25 Mar 1916 obtained a license to marry Oscar WOOD, formerly of Wake Co. PI believed they were married on that date. Emma BARBOUR and Oscar WOOD continued to live in Richmond and had since had a child. Clarence BARBOUR again requested a divorce, which was granted.

BARBOUR, Gladys Bell vs. Jacob F. BARBOUR

During March term of Superior Court 1920, it appearing that "all matters in controversy between the plaintiff and the defendant in this cause have been compromised and agreed upon" the action was dismissed. The complaint states that PI had been a resident of NC for more than 2 years prior to the filing of the complaint, and the Def was a resident of Wake Co. NC. PI and Def were married in Greenville, SC on 18 January 1918. They lived together until 27 January 1918. On 29 January of that year Def was sent to Europe with the US Army, where he remained until about 1 Feb 1919 when he was discharged and returned to Wake Co. On 10 July 1918 PI gave birth to a child, Freddie Elizabeth BARBOUR. Def was the father of the child, "he having begotten said child prior to his induction into Military Service, and under promise of marriage to the plaintiff." About 1 Feb 1919 Def abandoned his wife and child and had not provided any support since that time. The Def was not found in Wake Co. and was summoned in Wayne Co., where "this party is working at some garage at Goldsboro, NC."

BARBOUR, William E. vs. Bessie Nell BARBOUR

Divorce was granted during October term 1938, and custody of the minor child, Bobbie BARBOUR, Jr., was granted to the mother, with father to pay support of $20.00 per month. The complaint states that PI was a resident of Wake Co. and had been so for more than 1 year prior to the filing, Def a resident of Johnston Co. They were married about March 1905 and separated in January or February 1931, living apart since that date. The couple had 4 children, all of whom were of legal age at the time of the filing except for the youngest, age 7 (not named).

BARCLAY, Mary S. vs. C. R. BARCLAY

Divorce and child custody granted on 19 April 1932. PI stated that she and Def were married on 5 July 1924 and lived together until 1 Jan 1927 when Def abandoned PI. PI had been a resident of NC during entire period of her separation from the Def. He had contributed nothing to her support. The Def was not found in Wake Co. nor in the state of NC. The child's name, as given in the final judgment, was Mary Therma BARCLAY.

BAREFOOT, Christine vs. Paul BAREFOOT

Divorce granted 5 December 1934. PI was a resident of Wake Co. and Def a resident of Johns(t)on Co. About 4 Sep 1924 PI and Def were married in Clinton, NC by a JP. They lived together until 4 July 1932, and had not lived together since. There were 2 children born of this marriage: John Julious BAREFOOT, born 16 July 1925, and Earl Rudolph BAREFOOT, born 10 Oct 1928. The children had lived continuously with their mother since the separation except for visits to their father.

BARFIELD, Ida vs. Arthur BARFIELD

Divorce granted during November court term 1921. According to complaint, PI was a resident of Wake Co. NC for more than 2 years prior to the commencement of the divorce action; whereabouts of Def were unknown. They were married in Wake Co. on 15 Dec 1916 and lived together until 9 April 1918, when Def deserted PI. PI alleged and believed that about 4 March 1921 in Wake Co. and before and after that date Def committed adultery with one Sadie STEPHENS. Henry BEASLEY, L. E. COLVIN, Roy CREEL, and D. B. LUMSDEN, all staying near Caraleigh Mill, were summoned to give evidence in this case.

BARFIELD, Sadie vs. Arthur BARFIELD

Divorce granted during Sept term 1924. PI alleged that she had been a resident of Wake Co. for more than 2 years, and Def's place of residence was unknown to her. PI and Def were married in the state of VA in 1921, but Def deserted PI in the state of NC "about two years ago." Def committed adultery in the states of NC and SC with a woman whose name was unknown to PI, and he "travelled in both of said states with said woman as his wife." Def was not found in the state of NC.

BARHAM, Lucy T. vs. George S. BARHAM

Divorce and custody of children granted during April court term 1897. PI alleged that she and Def were married on 22 December 1858 and resided in Franklin Co. NC until about 4 years prior to the suit, at which time they moved to Wake Co. They had 9 children, 6 of them being of full age at the time of this action; the other 3 were 14, 17, and 19. PI alleged that Def was an habitual drunkard. PI's life was rendered burdensome due to the cruel treatment by her husband. He had done very little toward supporting the family or himself during the prior 4 years. He went to his children's employer and demanded that their wages be paid to him; therefore they were discharged from their employment and went to work "at a distant factory" where the employer was willing to pay their father the wages. PI was "a feeble woman in bad health." Def threatened the lives of both his wife and himself and at one time took so much laudanum that he could not be roused until about 19 hours later.

BARHAM, Betsy vs. David BARHAM

Divorce granted during January term 1882. PI alleged that in Nov 1881, the defendant was drinking and assaulted the plaintiff in her house. She feared for her life whenever Def was out of jail. They were married in 1866 and had two children, Mary BARHAM and Emily BARHAM, both under age at the time of the action.

BARKER, Simon vs. Corinna BARKER

Annulment granted during October court term 1901. PI alleged that he and Def were married in Wake Co. on 17 Mar 1885 and lived together for about 7 years, at which time Def left PI. For some time before the abandonment the father and mother of the Def "became enraged at the plaintiff without any cause and succeeded in alienating defendant's affection towards plaintiff...The said father on one occasion attempted to knock plaintiff down with a poker and on other occasions was so unpleasant and fractuous (sic) towards him that plaintiff called his wife's attention time and again to the fact that he could not live in the house with them...Finally after much coaxing and persuasion the defendant refused to leave her father and mother's house and live with plaintiff and under the circumstances it was impossible for the plaintiff to live with his said wife at said father's and mother's house...(PI said) he might go, she never intended to live with him again and in this way defendant abandoned plaintiff at the time above referred to and refused to live with him." PI was resident of Wake Co. for more than 2 years before date of action. Frank BLACKNALL, W. H. WILDER, and King LEACH were summoned to give evidence in this case. The summons for Corinna BARKER stated that she lived on Cannon St.

BARLOW, Susan vs. Simeon BARLOW

The case was reviewed by a "referee" who found the PI's allegations to be true and concluded that the case should be decided in favor of the PI. On 9 June 1869 Judge S. W. WATTS, Jr. examined the findings and decreed all order of divorce. PI stated that she married Def on 23 March 1863 in Wake Co. before Willis THOMPSON, an acting Justice of the Peace. She had lived in Wake Co. for more than 2 years prior to the action. About June 1865 (referee's report says July 1868) Def committed adultery with one Nancy WHEELER and continued that relationship, living with Nancy WHEELER since that time. Simeon's signature and the mark of Susan Ann BARLOW appear on the paper requesting that the case be submitted to a referee, one Charles M. BARKER or BANKER, Esq.

BARNES, Alie A. vs. Elmond J. BARNES

During 2nd Feb term 1928 PI failed to appear, and the action was dismissed. PI alleged that she had been a resident of NC all her life and a resident of Wake Co. for more than three years. On or about 20 Nov 1917 PI and Def were married in Durham Co. NC. About 20 Dec 1918 Def abandoned PI and had offered her no support since that time. At the time of the summons for Elmond BARNES' Court appearance as issued in Sep 1924 he was not found in the state, but on 13 Sep 1926 a Benson, NC attorney, James RAYNOR, requested a copy of the court records on Aley (sic) BARNES and Junius Elmon (sic) BARNES. On the final judgment, the names are given as Allie A. BARNES and Edmond J. BARNES.

BARNES, Ava Sealey vs. Nathan BARNES

Divorce granted January term 1934. PI stated that she was a resident of Wake Co. and the whereabouts of the Def were unknown. PI and Def were married in Wake Co. on 30 May 1925 and lived together "for several years." More than 2 years prior to the bringing of this action, Def deserted PI. Def was not located in the state of NC.

BARNES, J. J. vs. Wessie Parham BARNES

Divorce was granted during Feb term of 1940. PI, through his attorney Charles Aycock POE, stated that he lived in Raleigh, NC and had been a resident of NC for more than a year. Def resided in Rocky Mount, Nash Co. NC. PI and Def were married on 28 Nov 1917, lived together "for several years," and had one child, a daughter named Wessie Louise BARNES, 21 years old in Nov 1939. In the summer of 1931, "finding it impossible to continue living together because of irreconcilable differences and disputes," PI and Def separated, with the Def going to live in Rocky Mount. Summons indicated Wessie Parham BARNES lived on Hammond St. extension, Rocky Mount.

BARNES, Katie H. vs. Glee O. BARNES

The summons for Glee BARNES' appearance was sent to Cumberland Co.

BARNES, Maude A. vs. W. C. BARNES

PI failed to appear in court and the action was dismissed. PI alleged that she and Def were residents of Wake Co. NC. On 27 Feb 1923 they were married in Raleigh and lived together at 534 East Jones St. Def was manager for 5 counties in NC for the Volunteer State Life Insurance Co., earning a salary of not less than $100.00 per month, plus commissions. PI was 1st married in 1913 and had 2 children; her 1st husband died in 1918. One of the children had reached her majority but the younger, Charles Kirkland GARDNER was only 16 (in 1935) and lived with his mother. Def had one daughter by his former marriage; she was also 16 and lived with PI. Maude and W. C. BARNES had 3 children, Hilda Jones BARNES, 11; Jeraldine BARNES, 9; W. C. BARNES, Jr., 6, all of whom lived with the PI and had been supported by her from her weekly earnings of $20.00 (by selling neckties) since about 1925. Def refused to provide any support. Def had not stayed with PI and the children since Nov 1935. His behavior "resulted in almost complete physical and nervous collapse on the part of the plaintiff who is suffering with goiter which tends to weaken her physical condition."

BARNES, William Speight vs. Laura Augusta Mille BARNES

Divorce was granted 1 December 1936. PI stated that he was a native of NC and had resided in said state all of his life except for a period of approximately 7 years when he was engaged in work or study outside the state. He had resided continuously in Wake Co. since 22 May 1935. He believed that the Def had been a resident of the state of CA for a number of years. PI and Def were married in Boulder, CO on 5 August 1927 and had no children. The couple separated on 4 Sep 1933 and had lived apart since that date. At that time PI found it necessary to return to NC to "obtain suitable employment" but Def declined to come to NC, preferring to live in CA, where she was believed to be employed as a teacher, for which profession she was trained and in which she was capable of making a living. Def was 45 years old and PI was 33. The summons for Laura BARNES was issued to the Sheriff of Wake Co. NC and the pending action advertised in The Union Herald, a Wake Co paper. In February of 1937, subsequent to the divorce decree, Laura BARNES wrote to the Recorder's office, Wake Co., from her home in Los Angeles, and stated that "I have been informed indirectly that my husband, William Speight BARNES, heretofore a resident of California claims that he fraudulently obtained a divorce from me in NC within the last few months. Since he has been corresponding with me up to the present time knowing my address, and since I received no notice or service of any proceeding, I should like to know whether his statement is true." She requested a copy of the proceedings.

Why Should I Join a Local Society? I don't have any Wake County Ancestors.

Compiled by Harriette H. Riggs

Societies are always looking for ways to increase local membership. Every group needs new volunteers to carry-on traditions set by those who came before. As time has a way of taking its toll on us in one way or another, there must be others to replace those who are tired and want or need to do "their own thing." Many members want to publish their own research, but are so caught up doing for the society, there just isn't enough time. As people get older, it seems that time is running out and being able to publish proves that our research has not been in vain and is something we need to do for ourselves as well as those who come after.

Many of those who seem to be doing most of the work do not have ancestors in Wake County, but feel the need to provide armchair research for those who cannot travel here to the NC State Library. Societies are made up of dedicated and hard-working people with talents to share with others, but new talent is always needed to have continuity with the journal and do new publishing projects as well as provide other services.

Members are stymied by the reply used as a heading for this article when asking people to join a local society. In reading through back issues of the newsletters looking for possible reprints for the journal, the perfect response to that statement was found in the words of a former president. It is reprinted here for our benefit.

From the President's Desk – Rick Colyer

WCGS Newsletter, Volume 9, Number 11, February 1991

I stopped by to see my neighbor the other weekend to ask his advice on something. He's one of those people that everyone would like to live next to—knows a whole lot of practical stuff that many of us tend to neglect. He was working on his car. We started talking, and somehow the conversation turned to family history, don't ask me how.

Unaware of my addictive hobby, he described some of his family background, his sources of information, a computer program he had just bought, and his new-found interest in general. I began making some suggestions on what to do next and where, and could see the spark growing in his eyes. I fanned the flames as best I could and offered my help. He came by later, and I showed him much of my work and library. I described the local resources available and the local genealogical societies: Wake and Durham-Orange.

His first response was very natural, that he didn't have any ancestors from around here. I explained that was only a small consideration when joining a local society. He asked why he should join. The main purposes in joining a local society is that you can rub elbows with real people, attend programs and seminars, make contacts with others researching in the same areas as you, trade research techniques and tips with others who have more expertise than you in different areas, and to learn things on a local level that you can apply broadly. The key phrase here is genealogical interaction. Isolated people learn little. Interactive people learn much.

The focus of this month's article is not my neighbor, who is about to embark on a great adventure, but on the real reason we should join a local society. Genealogy is doing, and you can't do genealogy in a vacuum. We are all better off when we have someone to share a problem with. You double your chance of finding a solution with two people instead of one. Our society has over 200 members, a large pool of knowledgeable people. Collectively our group knows more about genealogy than any single one of us ever will. Take advantage of that.

Points to Ponder

The majority of us lead quiet, unheralded lives as we pass through this world. There will most likely be no ticker-tape parades for us, no monuments created in our honor. But that does not lessen our possible impact, for there are scores of people waiting for someone just like us to come along; people who will appreciate our compassion, our encouragement, who will need our unique talents. Someone who will live a happier life merely because we took the time to share what we had to give.

John TIGH

DECLARATION—"At the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions of Wake County at the Court House I Raleigh on the 3rd Monday of May AD 1856, John TIGH, a native of Ireland a free white person, and at the present time a resident of the county aforesaid, appears, the said court being a court of record, having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, and the said John TIGH being duly sworn declares upon oath that it is bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the United States and to renounce forever, all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty and particularly all allegiance and fidelity to Victoria Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, of whom he is now a subject, whereupon it is ordered that the said declaration of the said John TIGH be duly recorded by the clerk of this court. May 24, 1856. T. J. UTLEY, Clerk.

[The following is a puzzle. It was assumed when these records were found that this is the John O'RORKE for whom the O'RORKE Cemetery is named. However, he evidently died in 1865 and these records were formalized in 1870. Also, this John came to this country in 1850, and we know John O'RORKE was here in Wake County in the 1830s, so they cannot be the same person.]

John ROUKE/ROURKE

State of NC, New Hanover County, In Superior Court, Fall Term 1855, Personally appeared in open court John ROUKE by profession a gardener and being duly sworn according to law, doth declare and say that he is a native of Ireland and that he arrived in the USA on the 1st day of December AD 1850 and has resided in the US ever since, aged at the time of his arrival thirty years and that it is intention bona fide to become a Citizen of the USA and renounce all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign Prince, Potentate or Sovereignty whatever particularly to Victoria Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain of whom he is now a subject.

J. C. MANN, C/C certified that the above is a true and literal transcript of the record of the case on the Minutes of the Superior Court of Law for Fall Term 1855 now on file in his office. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal at office in Wilmington this 22nd day of March 1870.

USA, District of Maryland, Baltimore-District Court on 1st Tuesday, September 1867, William F. GILES, Judge. Be it remembered that on 3rd Sept. in the year aforesaid, John ROURKE a native of Ireland and at present residing in the City of Baltimore appeared in open court and applied to be admitted to become a citizen of the US. And it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, here, that the said John ROURKE had declared on oath, taken in the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions of NC on 1st day of November 1855, two years at least before his admission, that it was bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the US. He is declared a citizen of the US. Dated 3rd of September 1867. Recorded by Jas. W. CHEED?

RIDDICK , Willis I.	No date	Feb. 28, 1871 Age 61 years
TIGHE , John	No date Born in Leilrim [Leitrim?] County, Ireland	Dec. 26, 1871 Died in Raleigh

Mary Alice Hale and Harriette H. Riggs surveyed the entire cemetery on Tuesday, May 14, 1996. Not all of the stones listed in the 1940 survey are there at this time. In the CASEY lot, there were several small stones with only a small part of them visible above ground.

Bruce Penwell checked the spellings on the counties loisted above and corrected the information on Ireland for us.

At least one half of the cemetery is a beautiful green lawn with almost no markers which is evidently the section for paupers. We found a number of metal funeral home markers stuck in the ground around the fence. There are also a few old stones with no dates. The following has been recorded to update the old survey.

In the CASEY Lot:

Infant boy	one date Mar. 7, 18175 listed	Infant boy	no dates
	No other information		REQUIESCAT IN PACE [rest in peace]

DUFFY no other information

In the center of the Catholic section of the cemetery is a wrought iron fence about 12' x 14'. There is no gate, but the two tall posts on either side of the entrance are octagonoal in shape. The one on the right has only "J O R 1865". This is for John O'RORKE for whom the cemetery was named.

The following is an exact copy of the chart of the O'RORKE Cemetery which is on file at the Mt. Hope cemetery office. The names were written in pencil and completion date was July 20, 1988. We appreciate the help given by Mr. Danny Morgan, Maintenance Supervisor.

Please note that in the recent survey, there are some dates for those listed below as paupers. Either a stone had been placed later or dates came from the metal plates located along the fence. Two of the metal plates had only names—dates had been removed from the marker.

Note: 2 down and 4 across – Addie FOSTER was disinterred on March 21, 1944/74? Page 79.

Also, please note that some names are spelled differently in the two records. For example: Maryland BUNCH – Marlan BURCH. Are they the same person? Sometimes only a partial name was on the chart, whereas the markers included initials and/or full names. Example: David M. WALL – David Michael WALL.

There were also varied spellings, such as CAMBELL/CAMPBELL, Garlen FARRELL/Garland FERRELL, and additional information: James C. TANKERSLEY. Other variations are: Vera N. CAVINESS/Vera M. CAUDNESS, Floyd CLARK/Floyed CLARK, Clawston MILLER/Clawson MILLER. There are probably other variations between the early survey, the more recent survey.

The Church of St. John the Baptist & a Few Parishioners

Abstracted by Harriette H. Riggs

The first Catholic Church in Raleigh was dedicated by Bishop ENGLAND in 1835. "The Church of St. John the Baptist was built on an eighty foot square lot on the west side of Wilmington Street between Davie and Martin Streets. The land was donated by John O'RORKE, a Catholic benefactor.

The congregation included O'RORKE and, it is assumed, his family, along with the Irish Catholics who were employed in the building of the Capitol in the 1830s. Also among those first parishioners were Michael A. PRENDERGAST, his wife [Johanna] and her sister. Others were John KANE, Patrick McGOWAN, and James MURRAY.²

It is assumed that John O'RORKE is buried in the cemetery named for him though there are no stones listing any dates except the 1865 at the gate post. There is an entry on his wife in the North Carolina Standard-Weekly as follows: Wednesday, March 29, 1865

"Died at her resident near this city Thursday night 16th Elizabeth E. O'RORKE consort of John O'RORKE, Esq. in the 76th year of her age. Memorial Methodist E. Church."

An entry was found in the 1870 Wake County Census, Raleigh, Part 1.1., an original bound volume on page 29, Family #262, as follows:

PRENDARGAST, Michael, age 65, male, white, carpenter, born in Ireland, both parents foreign born and he is eligible to vote.

PRENDARGAST, Johanna, age 55, female, white, milliner, value of personal property $400, born Nova Scotia, parents foreign born.

PRENDARGAS, Lucy, age 38, female, white, milliner, born in Ireland, parents foreign born.

McNAMARA, James, age 37, male, white, Catholic Priest, value real estate $2,000, value personal property $200, born in Ireland, parents foreign born, eligible to vote.

GALLAGHER, Mary, age 29, female, white, school teacher, born in Md, father is foreign born.

Another entry found in Wake Treasures, Winter/Spring, Volume 5, No. 2, page 52 as follows:

#275 – Died Mar. 2, 1888–PRENDERGAST, Joanna, female, white, place of death: corner Morgan & Wil, Ward 1, married, milliner, cause of death: jaundice & genl debility, interred: St. Johns, physician, P. E. HINES, undertaker: J. W. BROWN.

Col. J. F. RIVERS, of Chatham, died of paralysis on the 21st ult. after an illness of six weeks. He was in his 67th year. He represented Chatham in the Legislature in the year 1852. He was loved by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his departure.

The people of the City of Raleigh were shocked to learn of the sad death of Mr. R. B. LEWIS, Jr., a former member of the Raleigh Bar, but more recently of Statesville. He had many friends who deplore his death. His remains were brought to Raleigh for interment, and were followed to the grave by a large number of sorrowing friends.

#320111, pg. 103 – Emma BLALOCK, 88 years old, 529 Bannan Avenue, Raleigh, NC

"I shore do 'member do Yankees wid dere blue uniforms wid brass buttons on 'em. I wus too small to work any but I played in de yard wid my oldes' sister, Katie. She is dead long ago. My mother belonged to ole man John GRIFFITH an' I belonged to him. His plantation wus down here at Auburn in Wake County. My father wus named Edmund RAND. He belonged to Mr. Nat RAND. He lived in Auburn. De plantations wus not fur apart. Dere wus about twenty-five slaves on de plantation whur mother an' me stayed.

"Marse John used ter take me on his knee an' sing, 'Here is de hammer, shing ding. Gimmie de hammer, shing ding.' Marster loved de nigger chilluns on his plantation. When de war ended father come me Emmy. My grandfather on my father's side wus named Harden RAND, an' grandmother wus named Mason RAND. My grandfather on my mother's side wus named Antny GRIFFITHS an' grandmother wus named Nellie.

"Our food wus a plenty and well cooked. Marster fed his niggers good. We had plenty of homespun dresses and we got shoes once a year, at Christmas Eve. I ken 'member it just as good. We got Christmas holidays an' a stockin' full of candy an' peanuts. Sometimes we got ginger snaps at Christmas. My grandmother cooked 'em. She wus a good cook. My mother's missus wus Miss Jetsy GRIFFITH and my father's missus wus Lucy RAND. Dey wus both mighty good women. You know I am ole. I ken 'member all dem good white folks. Dey give us Fourth July Holidays. Dey come to town on dat day. Dey wore, let me tell you what dey wore, dey wore dotted waist blouses an' white pants. Dat wus a big day to ever'body, de Fourth of July. Dey begun singing at Auburn an' sun till dey reached Raleigh. Auburn is nine miles from Raleigh. Dere wus a lot of lemonade. Dey made light bread in big ovens an' had cheese to eat wid it. Some said just goin' on de fofe to git lemonade an' cheese.

"In the winter we had a lot of pollums to eat an' a lot of rabbits too. At Christmas time de men hunted and caught plenty game. We barbecued it before de fire. I 'members seein' mother an' grandmother swinging rabbits 'fore de fire to cook 'em. Dey would turn an' turn 'em till dey wus done. Dey hung some up in de chimbley an' dry 'em out an' keep 'em a long time an' dat is de reason I won't eat a rabbit today. No Sir! I won't eat a rabbit. I seed 'em mess wid 'em so much turnedme 'ginst eatin' 'em.

"I don't know how much lan' Marster John owned but, Honey, dat wus some plantation. It reached from Auburn to de Neuse River. Yes Sir, it oid, 'cause I been down dere in corn hillin' time an' we fished at twelve o'clock in Neuse River. Marster John had overseers. Dere wus six of 'em. Dey rode horses over de fields but I don't 'member dere names.

"I never seen a slave whupped but dey wus whupped on de plantation an' I heard de grown folks talkin' 'bout it. My uncles, Nat an' Bert GRIFFITHS wus both whupped. Uncle Nat would not obey his missus rules an' she had him whupped. Dey whupped Uncle Bert 'cause he stayed drunk so much. He loved his lickin' an' he got drunk an' cut up bad, den dey whupped him. You could git plenty whiskey den. Twon't like it is now. No sir, it won't. Whiskey sold fur ten cents a quart. Most ever'body drank it but you hardly ever seed a man drunk. Slaves wus not whupped for drinkin'. Dere Marsters give 'em whiskey but dey wus whupped for gittin' drunk. Dere wus a jail, a kind of stockade built of logs, on de farm to put slaves in when dey wouldn't mind. I never say any plave put in de block an' sold, but I saw Aunt Helen RAND cryin' because her Marster Nat RAND sold her boy, Fab RAND.

"No sir, no readin' an' writin'. You had to work. Ha! Ha! You let your marster or missus ketch you wid a book. Dat wuz a strict rule dat no learnin' wuz to be teachd. I can't read an' write. If it wuz not fur my mother wit don't know what would become of me. We had prayer meetings around at de slave houses. I 'member it well. We turned down pots on de inside of de house at de door to keep marster an' missus from hearin' de singin' an' prayin'. Marster an' his family live din de great house an' de slave quarters wuz 'bout two hundred yards away to the back of de great house. Dey wuz arranged in rows. When de war ended we all stayed on wid de families GRIFFITHs and' RANDs till dey died, dat is all 'cept my father an' me. He lef' an' I lef'. I been in Raleigh forty-five years. I married Mack BLALOCK in Raleigh. He been dead seven years.

"My mother had two boys, Antny an' Wesley. She had four girls, Katie, Grissie, Mary Ella an' Emma. I had three chilluns, two are livin' yet. They both live in Raleigh.

"We had big suppers an' dinners at log rollin's an' corn shiuckin's inslavery time. Ha! Ha! Plenty of corn lickor for ever'body, both white an' black. Ever'body helped himself. Dr. Tom BUSBEE, one goold ole white man, looked after us when we got sick, an' he could make you well purty quick, 'cause he wuz good an' 'cause he wuz sorry fer you. He wuz a feelin' man. Course we took erbs. I tell you what I took. Scurrey grass, chana balls dey wuz for worms. Scurrey grass worked you out. Dey give us wintergreen to clense our blood. We slaves an' a lot of de white folks drank sassafras tea in de place of coffee. We sweetened it wid brown sugar, honey, or molasses, just what we had indate line. I think slavery wuz a right good thing. Plenty to eat an' wear.

"When you gits a tooth pulled now it costs two dollars, don't it? Well in slavery time I had a tooth botherin' me. My mother say, Emma, take dis egg an' go down to Doctor BUSBEE an' give it to him an' git your tooth pulled. I give him one egg. He took it an' pulled my tooth. Try dat now, if you wants to an' see what happens. Yes, slavery wuz a purty good thing."

#320276, pg. 13 – Martha ALLEN, ex-slave, 78 of 1318 S. Person St., Raleigh

"I wuz borned in Craven County seventy eight years ago. My pappa wuz named Andrew BRYANT an' my mammy wuz named Harriet. My brothers wuz John Franklin, Alfred an' Andrew. I ain't had no sisters. I reckon dat we is what yo' call a general mixture case I am part Injun, part white, an' part nigger.

"My mammy belonged ter Tom Edward GASKIN an' she wusn't half fed. De cook nussed de babbies while she cooked, so dat de mammies could wuck in de fiel's, an' all de mammies done wuz stick de babbies in de kitch do' on dere way ter de fiel's. I'se hyard mammy say dat dey went ter wuck widout breakfast, an' dat when she put her babby in de kitchen she'd go by de slop bucket an' drink de slops from a long handled gourd.

"De slave driver wuz bad as he could be, an' de slaves got awful beatin's.

De young marster sorta wanted my mammy, but she tells him no, so he chunks a lightwood knot an hits her on de haid wid it. Dese white mens what had babies by nigger wimmens wuz called 'Carpet Gitters'. My father's father wuz one o' dem.

"Yes mam, I'se mixed plenty case my mammy's grandmaw wuz Cherokee Inun.

"I doan know nothin' 'bout no war, case marster carried us ter Cedar Falls near Durham an' dar's whar we come free.

"I 'members dat de Ku Klux uster go ter de Free Issues houses, strip all de family an' whup de ole folkses. Den dey dances wid de pretty yaller gals an' goes ter bed wid dem. Dat's what de Ku Klux wiz, a bunch of mean mens tryin' ter hab a good time.

"I'se wucked purty hard durin' my life an' I done my courtin' on a seer an' cart haulin' wood ter town ter sell. He wuz haulin' wood too on his wagin, an' he'd beat me ter town so's dat he could help me off'n de wagin. I reckon dat dat wuz as good a way as any.

"I tries ter be a good Christian but I'se got disgusted wid dese young upstart niggers what dances in de chu'ch. Dey says dat dey am truckin an' dat de Bible ain't forbid hit, but I reckon dat I knows dancin' whar I sees hit."

#320169, pg. 194 – Ex Slave Story as Julia CRENSHAW recalled her mother's story.

"My mammy wuz named Jane an' my pappy wuz named Richard. De belonged ter Lawyer R. J. LEWIS in Raleigh, dar whar Peace Institute am ter day. Mammy said dat de white folkses wuz good ter dem an' gib em' good food an' clothes. She wuz de cook, an' fer thirty years atter de war she cooked at Peace.

"Before de Yankees come Mr. LEWIS said, dat he dreamed dat de yard wuz full uv dem an' he wuz deaf. When dey comed he played deaf so dat he won't have ter talk ter 'em. Him, he am dat proud.

"Mammy said dat she ain't cared 'bout been' free case she had a good home, but atter all slavery wusn't de thing fer America."

#320159, pg. 187 – Hannah CRASSON

"My name is Hannah CRASSON. I wuz born on John William WALTON's plantation 4 miles from Garner and thirteen miles from Raleigh, NC in the County of Wake. I am 84 years ole the 2nd day uv dis las' gone March. I belonged to Mr. John William WALTON in slavery time. My missus was named Miss Martha.

"My father wuz bamed Frank WALTON. My mother wuz named Flora WALTON. Grandma wuz 104 year when she died. She died down at de old plantation. My brothers were named Johnnie and Lang. My sisters were Adeline, Violet, Mary, Sarah, Ellen and Annie. Four of us are livin': Ellen, Mary, Sarah and me.

"De old boss man wuz good to us. I wuz talkin' about him the udder night. He didn't whup us and he said, he didn't want nobody else to whup us. It is jis like I tell you; he wuz never cruel to us. One of his sons wuz cruel to us. We had plenty to eat, we shore did, plenty to eat. We had nice houses to loive in too. Grandma had a large room to live in, and we had one to live in. Daddy stayed at home with mother. They worked their patches by moonlight; and worked for the white folks in the day time. They sold what they made. Marster bought it and paid for it. He made a barrel of rice every year, my daddy did.

"Mr. Bell ALLEN owned slaves too. He had plenty of niggers. His plantation wuz 5 miles from ourn. We went to church at the white folks church. When Mr. Bell ALLEN seed us cummin' he would say, 'yonder comes John WALTON's free niggers.'

"Our marster would not sell his slaves. He give dem to his children when they married off do'. I swept yards, churned, fed the chickens. In de evening I would go with my missus a fishin'. We eat collards, peas, corn bread, milk and rice. We got biskit and butter twice a week. I thought dat de best things I ever et wuz butter spread on biskit. We had a corn mill and a flour mill on the plantation. There wuz about 24 slaves on de place. Dey had brandy made on de plantation, and de marster gib all his slaves some for dere own uses.

"My grandmother and mother wove our clothes. Dey were called homespun. Dey made de shoes on de plantation too. I wuz nor married til atter de surrender. I did not dress de finest in the world, but I had nice clothes. My wedding dress wuz made of cream silk made princess with pink and cream bows. I wore a pair of morocco store bought shoes. My husband wuz dressed in a store bought suit of clothes, the coat was made pigeon tail. He had on a velvet vest and a white collar and tie. Somebody stole de ves' atter dat.

"One of our marster's daughters wuz cruel. Sometime she would go out and rare on us, but old marster didn't want us whapped.

"Our great-grandmother wuz named granny Flora. Dey stole her from Africa wid a red pocket handkerchief. Old man John William got my great-grandmother. De people in New England got scured of we niggers. Dey were afrid we would rise against em and dey pushed us on down South. Lawd, why didn't dey let us stay whur we wuz, dey nebber wouldn't a been so menny half white niggers, but the old marster wuz to blame for that.

"We never saw any slaves sold. They carried them off to sell 'em. The slaves traveled in droves. Fathes and mothers were sold from their chilluns. Chilluns wuz sold from their parents on de plantations close to us. Where we went to church, we sat in a place away from de white folks. The slaves never did run away from marster, because he wuz good to 'em; but they run away from other plantations.

"Yes, we seed the patterollers, we called 'em pore white trash, we also called patterollers pore white pecks. They had ropes around their necks. They came to our house one night when we were singin' and prayin'. It wuz jist before the surrender. Dey were hired by de slave owner. My daddy told us to show 'em de brandy our marster gib us, den dey went on a way, kase dey knowed John WALTON wuz a funny man about his slaves. Dey gave us Christmas and other holidays. Den dey, de men, would go to see dare wives. Some of the men's wives belong to other marsters on other plantations. We had corn shuckin's at night, and candy pullin's. Sometimes we had quiltings and dances.

"One of the slaves, my aint, whe wuz a royal slave. She could dance all over de place wid a tumbler of water on her head, widout spilling it. She sho could tota herself. I always luvud to see her come to church. She sho could tote herself.

"My oldest sister Violet died in slavery time. She wuz ten years old when she died. Her uncles were her pall bearers. Uncle Hyman and Uncle Handy carried her to the grave yard. If I makes no mistake my daddy made her coffin. Dere wuz no singin'. There were seven of the family dere, dat wuz all. Dey had no funeral. Dere were no white folks dere.

"Dey baptized people in creeks and ponds.

"We rode corn stalks, bent down small pine trees and rode 'em for horses. We also played prison base. Colored and white played, yes sir, whites and colored. We played at night but we had a certain time to go to bed. Dat wuz nine o'clock.

"De boss man looked atter us when we wuz sick. He got doctors. I had the typhoid fever. All my hair came out. Dey called it de 'mittent fever.' Dr. Thomas BANKS doctored me. He been dead a long time. Oh! I don't know how long he been dead. Near all my white folks were found dead. Mr. John died outside. _____ WALTON died in bed. Marster Joe WALTON died sitting under a tree side de path. Miss Nancey died in bed.

"I 'member the day de war commenced. My marster called my father and my two uncles Handy and Hyman, our marster called 'em. Dey had started back to the field to work in the afternoon. He said, 'Cum here boys,' that wuz our young marster, Ben WALTON, says 'cum here boys. I got sumptin' to tell you.' Uncle Hyman said, 'I can't. I got to go to work.' He said 'come here and set down, I got sumptin' to tell you.'

"The niggers went to him and set down. He told them, "there is a war commenced between the North and the South. If the North whups you will be as free a man as I is. If the South whups you will be a slave all your days.'

"Mr. Joe WALTON said when he went to war dat dey would eat breakfast at home, go and whup the North, and be back for dinner. He went away, and it wuz four long years before he cum back to dinner. De table wuz shore set a long time for him. A lot of de white folks said dey wouldn't be much war, dey could whup dem so easy. Many of dem never did come back to dinner. I wuz afraid of the Yankees because Missus had told us the Yankees were going to kill every nigger in the South. I hung to my mammy when dey come through.

"I thoubht Abraham LINCOLN wuz the medicine man, with grip in his han', cause he said every borned man must be free.

"I did not think anything of Jeff DAVIS. I thank de will of God for setting us free. He got into Abraham LINCOLN and the Yankees. We are thankful to the great masrter dat got into LINCOLN and the Yankees. Dey say Booker WASHINGTON wuz fine, I don't know.

"The white folks did notn allow us to have nothing to do wid books. You better not be found tryin' to leanr to read. Our marster wuz harder down on dat den anything else. You better not be ketched wid a book. Dey read the Bible and told us to obey our marster for de Bible said obey your marster.

"The first band of music I ever herd play the Yankees wuz playin' it. They were playin' a song

"I am tired of seeing de homespun dresses the southern woman wear.

"I thinks Mr. ROOSEVELT is a fine man. Jus' what we need."

#320184, pg. 259 – Margaret E. DICKENS, 1115 E. Lenoir St. [Raleigh, NC]

"My name is Margaret E. DICKENS and I was born on the 5th of June 1861. My mother wuz free born; her name was Mary Ann HEWS, but my mother wuz colored. I don't remember anything about Marster and Missus. My father was named Henry BYRD. Here is some of father's writing: My mother's father was dark. He had no protection. If he did any work for a white man and the white man didn't like it, he could take him up and whup him. My father was like a stray dog.

"My name was Margaret E. BYRD before I got married. Here is somme of father's writing: Margaret Elvira BYRD the daughter of Henry and Mary Ann BYRD was born on the 5th of June 1861. My grandfather, my mother's father was a cabinet maker. He made coffins and tables and furniture. If he made one, and it didn't suit the man he would beat him and kick him around and let him go. Dis was told to me. My father was a carpenter. He built houses.

"I can read and write. My father could read and write. My mother could read, but couldn't write very much.

"I have heerd my mother say when she heard the Yankees were commin' she had a brand new counterpane, my father owned a place before he married my mother, the counter pane was woolen woven counterpane. She took it off and hid it. The Yankees took anything they wanted, but failed to find it. We were living in Raleigh, at the time, on the very premises we are living on now. The old house has been torn down, but some of the wood is in this very house. I kin show you part of the old house now. My mother used to pass this place when she wuz a girl and she told me she never expected to liv here. She was twenty years younger than my father. My mother, she lived here most of the time except twenty-four years she live din the North. She died in 1916. My father bought the lan' in 1848 from a man named Henry MORGAN. Here is the deed. An interesting feature of the deed is the fact that Henry MORGAN made his mark while Henry BYRD's signature is his own.

"When we left Raleigh, and went North we first stopped at Cambridge, Mass. This was with my first husband. His name was Samuel E. REYNOLDS. He wa a preacher. He had a church and preached there. The east winds were so strong and cold we couldn't stan' it. It was too cold for us. We then went to Providence, R.I. From there to Elmira, NY. From there we went to Brooklyn, NY. He preached in the state of New York; we finally came back South and he died right here in this house. I like the North very well, but there is nothing loike home, the South. Another thing I don't have so many white kin folks up North. I don't like to be called Auntie by anyone, unless they admit bein' kin to me. I was not a fool when I went to the North, and it made no change in me. I was raised to respect everybody and I tries to keep it up. Soe things in the North are all right, I like them, but I like the South better. Yes I guess I like the South better. I was married to Charles W. DICKENS in 1920. He is my second husband.

"I inherited this place from my fater, Henry BYRD. I like well wate.r There is my well, right out here in the yard. This well was dug here when they were building the first house here. I believe in havin' your own home, so I have held on to my home, and I am goin' to try to keep holdin' on to it."

#320187, pg. 275 – Jennylin DUNN, 87 of 315 Bledsoe Avenue, Raleigh, NC.

"I wuz borned hyar in Wake County eighty-seben years ago. Me an' my folks an' bout six others belonged to Mis' Betsy LASSITER who wuz right good ter us, do' she sho' did know dat chilluns needs a little brushin' now an' den.

"My papa wuz named Isaac, my mammy wuz named Liza an' my sisters wuz named Lucy, Candice an' Harriet. Dar wuz one boy what died 'fore I can 'member an' I donan know his name.

"We ain't played no games ner sung no songs, but we had fruit ter eat an' a heap of watermillions ter eat in de season.

"I seed seberal slabe sales on de block, front of de Raleigh Cou't house, an' yo' can't think how dese things stuck in my mind. A whole heap o' times I seed mammies sold from dere little babies, an' dar wuz no'min' den, as yo' knows.

"De patterollers wuz sumpin dat I wuz skeerd of. I know just two o' 'em, Mr. Billy Allen DUNN an' Mr. Jim RAY, an' I'se hyard of some scandalous things dat dey done. Day do say dat dey whupped some of de niggers scandalous.

"When dey hyard dat de Yankees wuz on dere way ter hyar dey says ter us dat dem Yankees eats little nigger youngins, an' we shore stays hid.

"I jist seed squeamishin' parties lookin' fer sumpin' ter eat, an' I'se hyard dat dey tuck ever'thing dey comes 'crost. A whole heap of it dey flunged away, an' atterwards dey got hungry too.

"One of 'em tried to tell us dat our white folks stold us from our country an' brung us hyar, but since den I foun' out dat de Yankees stole us dereselves, an' den dey sold us ter our whote folkses.

"Atter de war my pappy an' mammy brung us ter Raleigh whar I'se been libin' since dat time. We got along putty good, an' de Yankees sont us some yteachers, but most o' us wuz so busy scramblin' roun' makin' a livin' dat we ain't got no time fer no schools.

"I reckon dat hit wuz better dat de slaves wuz freed, but I still loves my white folkses, an' dey loves me."

#320240, pg. 242-245 – W. Solomon DEBNAM, 701 Smith Street [Raleigh, NC]

"Yes, I remember the Yankees coming to Raleigh. I don't know very much about those times, I was so young, but I remember the Yankees all right in their blue clothes; their horses, and so on I'll be 78 years old the 8th of this comin' September an' I've heard mother an' father talk about slavery time a whole lot. We belonged to T. R. DEBNAM at Eagle Rock, Wake County. His wife was named Liza DEBNAM. My master had several plantations an' a lot of slaves. I don't know how many, but I know he had 'em. He fed us well; we had a good place to sleep. We had wove clothes, enough to keep us warm. He treated me just like he had been my father. I didn't know the difference. Marster an' missus never hit me a lick in their lives. My mother was the house girl. Father tended business around the house an' worked in the field sometimes. Our houses were in marster's yard. The slave quarters were in the yard of the great house. I don't remember going to church until after the surrender.

"I remember the corn shuckin's, but not the Christmas and the fourth of July holidays. They had a lot of whiskey at corn shuckin's and good things to eat.

"I heard pappy talk of patterollers, but I do not know what they were. Pappy said he had to have a pass to visit on, or they would whip him if they could ketch him. Sometime sthey could not ketch a nigger they were after. Yes, they taught us to say pappy an' mammy in them days.

"I remember the coon and possum hunts an' the rabbits we caught in gums. I remember killin' birds at night with thorn brush. When bird blindin' we hunt 'em at night wight lights from big splinters. We went to grass patches, briars, and vines 'lon the creeks an' low groun's where they roosted, an' blinded 'em an' killed 'em when they come out. We cooked 'em on coals and I remember making a stew and having dumplings cooked with 'em. We'd flustrate the birds in their roostin' place an' when they come out blinded by the light we hit 'em and killed 'em with thorn brush we carried in our han's.

"Marster had a gran'son, the son of Alonza HODGE an' Arabella HODGE, 'bout my age an' I stayed with im most of the time. When Alonza HODGE bought his son anything he bought for me too. He treated us alike. He bought each of us a pony. We could ride good, when we were small. He let us follow him. He let us go huntin' squirrels with him. When he shot an' killed a squirrel he let us race to see which could get him first, while he laughed at us.

"I didn't sleep in the great house. I stayed with this white boy till bed time then my mammy come an' got me an' carried me home. When marster wanted us boys to go with him he would say, 'Let's go boys,' an' we would follow him. We were like brothers. I ate with him at the table. What they et, I et. He made the house girl wait on me just like he an' his son was waited on.

"My father stayed with marster till he died, when he was 63 an' I was ??; we both stayed right there. My white playmate's name was Richard HODGE. I stayed there till I was married. When I got 25 years old I married Ida RAWLSON. Richard HODGE became a medical doctor, but he died young, just before I was married.

"They taught me to read an' write. After the surrender I went to free school. When I didn't know a word I went to old marster an' he told me.

"During my entire life no man can touch my morals, I was bought up by my white folks not to like, steal, or do things immaral. I have lived a pure loife. There is nothing against me.

"I remember the Yankees, yes sir, an' somethings they done. Well, I remember the big yellor gblar they couldn't ketch. He riz an' flew an' they shot him an' killed him. They went down to marster's store an' busted the head outan a barrel o' molasses an' after they busted the head out I got a tin bucket an' got it full o' molasses an' started to the house. Then they shoved me down in the molasses. I set the bucket down an' hit a Yankee on the leg with a dogwood stick. He tried to hit me. The Yankees ganged around him, an' made him leave me alone, give me my bucket o' molasses, an' I carried it on to the house. They went down to the lot, turned out all the horses an' tuck two o' the big mules, Kentucky mules, an' carried 'em off. One of the mules would naw every line you tied him with, an' the other could not be rode. So next morning after the Yankees carried 'em off they both come back home with pieces o' line on 'em. The mules was named, one was named Bill, an' the other Charles. You could ride ole Charles, but you couldn't ride ole Bill. He would throw you off as fast you got on 'em.

"After I was married when I was 25 years old I lived there ten years, right there, but ole marster had died an' missus had died. I stayed wit his son Nathaniel; his wife was named Drusilla.

"I had five brothers, Richard, Daniel, Rogene, Lorenzo, Lumus and myself. There won't places there for us all, an' then I left. When I left down ther I moved to Raleigh. The first man I worked for here was George MARSH Company, then ? A. MYATT Company an' no one else. I worked with the MYATT Company twenty-six years; 'till I got shot.

"It was about half past twelve o'clock. I was on my way home to dinner on the 20th of December 1935. When I was passing Patterson's Alley entering Lenoir Street near the colored park in the 500 block something hit me. I looked around an' heard a shot. The bullet hit me before I heard the report of the pistol. When hit, I looked back an' heard it. Capt. Bruce POOL o' the Raleigh Police force, had shot at some thief that had broken into a A & P Store an' the bullet hit me. It hit me in my left thigh above the knee. It went through my thigh, a 38 caliber bullet, an' lodged under the skin on the other side. I did not fall but stood on one foot while the blood ran from the wound. A car came by in about a half hour an' they stopped an' carried me to St. Agnes Hospita. It was not a police car. I stayed there a week. They removed the bullet an' then I had to go to the hospital every day for a month. I have not been able to work a day since. I was working with ? A. MYATT Conmpany when I got shot. My leg pains me now and swells up. I cannot stand on it much. I am unable to do a day's work. Can't stand up to do a day's work. The city paid me $200.00 an' paid my hospital bill.

"Abraham LINCOLN was all right. I think slavery was wrong because birds an' things are free an' man ought to have the same privilege.

"Franklin ROOSEVELT is a wonderfull man. Men would have starved if he hadn't helped 'em."

Wake County Cemetery Survey Listing by Township (Part 1)

Irene Kittinger, Coordinator

The name and location of cemeteries thus far recorded in Wake County will be listed by township, of which there are twenty. This information is being entered in the computer base at the NC Archives. Name of those buried are not included, but scattered early graveyards are known by a family name. Often a married daughter and her family were buried in her father's graveyard, as was possibly his sister. Only one or two graves were found in some of the cemeteries. While many have fieldstones for markers, a few have been identified by word of mouth or family record. Directions may be off somewhat in distance and even as to which side of the road is correct.

Our motivating concern has been to find the graveyards, even the site of those already destroyed. We hope those that are still intact will be preserved for future generations to know where past generations have trod. Our ultimate goal is to render the information. An offer to finance publication came before enough work had been completed; so we lost out. Two recent years when grant money was available from State funds, we applied – not a fraction was offered (we did not try the third time). We did apply for a privately funded grant, but to no avail. In the minds of most people, even some historians, cemeteries really belong to the past and certainly not to the future, though the present is destroying them.

The main concern of researchers is the information. Wanted, but not so easy to get the survey completed and in final format! This work is in conjunction with the cemetery project of the State Archives and is how the Wake team first came together. It is made up of a cross section of volunteers—interested individuals and scout/club/church groups. It is an ever-changing group. More surveying is needed in Raleigh's townships and in Holly Springs, Cedar Fork, Leesville, and Bartons Creek. Other need a final glean. If you or someone you know in Wake County would like to assist in the final thrust to complete this project, please let it be known. Directions, a map, and a list of cemeteries already surveyed will be provided if you and/or your organizations will take on an area.

The State Archives, the State Library, and the NC Genealogical Society, when questioned about Wake cemeteries, know to give the current survey coordinator as a referral. Few weeks go by that at least one call or a letter is not received. Not many graveyards before mid- to late 1800s are found; but queries should tell where the ancestor lived or the census area, church affiliation, etc. If a graveyard is mentioned in a deed or will, this could lead to one not yet listed. Some land owners, for various reasons, are reluctant to reveal the presence of a cemetery unless we let them know we know its there, which still may not bring results.

Contact Mrs. A. A. (Irene) Kittinger, 1218 Scott Place, Cary, NC 27511-4721 (Tel:919 / 467-6989) about a name or cemetery and others known, errors in this listing, etc. Provide as much information as possible. Continue to be patient about publication. In the meantime, the township listings should prove most helpful.

Wake Forest Township

The present day township joins Franklin County on the N/NE and Granville County for a half mile to the W of Franklin. It lies between Little River Township on the E/SE, bounded by the Little River and SR 2224 and New Light Township on the W, bounded by SR 1924 and SR 1923 in a southerly direction. The line turns west on Old NC 98 (SR 1967) and in .1 mi turns SW on SR 2000. At the Falls of the Neuse, the Neuse River continues the line southeasterly until it reaches Hodges Creek with Neuse Township on the other side. St. Matthews Township joins S along Hodges Creek and at the creek on SR 2217, running NE to SR 1003. The final segment is from SR 1003 N 1.3 mi, intersecting and turning at SR 2224 NE and ending at the Little River.

Various dates of survey: 1976, 1986-88, 1989-1990, 1996. Many of the cemeteries are abandoned. A first name (head of family or oldest born – not necessarily first burial), if known, is given.

*Cemeteries that have only fieldstones or rocks for markers. A number of the others have fieldstones with only one or several inscribed markers.

Little River Township

The present day township is the most northeasterly one in Wake County. The northernmost point of the township is the Little River which flows through to the southernmost point. Two miles of the river flowing out of Franklin County divides Wake Forest Township on the West. The line with Wake Forest continues SW along SR 2224 only until it intersects with SR 1003. The north boundary with Franklin County drops S, then SE by way of Moccasin Creek (includes Bunn Lake) to the tip of Nash County. Southwestward the line joins Johnston County until meeting the Little River. Back at SR 1003 the line bears S touching St. Matthews Township, then takes SR 2320 SE. Meeting the Little River, the line follows the river on its southerly flow into Johnston County. The adjoining township on the SE path is Marks Creek.

Volunteer Surveyors: Little River Historical Society – Edythe Tippet, chairman; Martin Winfree, Grady M. Doyle, Bettie J. Pedigo, Faye Pearce, Allen Green, Nancy Olive, Willa Deans, Wilbur and Dot Debnan, Mrs. Robert D. Massey, Bobbie Ruth Gurley, Emily R. Merritt.

Various Dates of Surveys: 1975-76, 1980, 1991-94, 1996. Many of these cemeteries are abandoned. A first name (head of family or earliest birth – not necessarily first burial), if known, is given.

*Cemeteries that have only fieldstones or rocks for markers. A number of the others have fieldstones with one or several inscribed markers.
