Message From the Editor

Donna Shackle
Editor, Wake Treasures

WELCOME TO THIS EDITION OF WAKE TREASURES

Dear Readers,

I am so pleased to announce that Wake Treasures has once again won the North Carolina Genealogical Society's 2021 Award for Excellence in Periodical Publishing (Journal). This is the third time this award has been presented to Wake Treasures. Hope Blackford accepted this award in 2011 and in 2018, Diane L Richard accepted this award. I am honored to follow in their footsteps in receiving the 2021 award. It gives me great pride to say that Wake Treasures is continuing its run of award-winning content and continuing to serve the people of Wake County.

Fall is here, and with it the latest issue to keep you company as you brew a cup of something cozy and warm to drink and settle in for a journey into the past.

In this issue, Wake County Genealogical Society's President of the Board, Carla Stancil, has written two articles: "How the Goat Cart Became a Photo Prop"; and "Remembering Mamie Allen," a recollection regarding her dear aunt. Over the next year Wake Treasures will be featuring a short series on the Wake County based Allen family. This issue includes the completion of the 1897 Raleigh Colored School Census and highlights items from the Crowder Collection held at the State Archives of North Carolina. This collection includes several diary entries from an unknown male that give us a glimpse into the past. Following these articles are the Wake County Civil Action Papers Concerning Land, 1814.

It is my hope that you enjoy this issue, and as always, I want to thank the volunteers who help keep the journal in publication. If you enjoy the journal and would like to become a part of the journal team, please reach out to me at journal@wakecogen.org and I would be happy to discuss volunteering opportunities with you.

Happy Reading,

Donna

How the Goat Cart Became a Photo Prop

Carla Stancil

Carla Stancil is the president of the Wake County Genealogical Society and has Wake County ancestors. Her research has led to this interesting article, and I hope you enjoy it.

During the 18th and 19th centuries, the wooden goat cart was merely a means of hauling items on a farm under the power of a goat or two. But somewhere along the way, the goat cart became a photo prop used by roving photographers around the country to take cute pictures of children as a means of making a living. From the late 19th century until well into the 1940s, traveling photographers would sit local children in the cart to photograph. They would print the photo or postcard to sell to families. Dozens of these vintage goat cart pictures can be found on the internet[1].

The practice went viral and even appeared to be depression-proof.[2] After all, who could resist a cute picture of their children posed in a goat cart? Also known as "billy carts", these photo ops were an advertisement in themselves. Often numbered as in a fleet, they also generally had the year the photo was taken painted on the front of the cart. The North Carolina Archives has a small collection of Goat Cart pictures from the C. H. Jordan Photograph Collection on their flickr account at https://www.flickr.com/photos/north-carolina-state-archives/albums/72157693408790234.[3]

Remembering Mamie Allen

Carla Stancil

Carla Stancil is the president of the Wake County Genealogical Society and is sharing with us her memories of a cherished great aunt who lived and worked in Wake County.

Mamie Allen, my great aunt on my paternal side, was born on 11 December 1907 in Granville County, North Carolina, just across the Wake County line. My own birthday is 12 December and I've always thought it perfectly wonderful that our birthdays were just one day apart. So fitting for one of my very favorite family members.

Mamie was the second child of Eugene Narron (Bud) Allen and wife Elizabeth (Lizzie) Ray and had seven siblings: Atlas, Lois Jean, Henrietta, Lacie, Elsie Loretta, John Benjamin, and Marvin Eugene.

Mamie was a very nurturing woman and the caretaker of the family, particularly after her mother died in 1928 when Mamie was just 21 years old. I'm sure Mamie did a lot more than just help" raise her five remaining siblings after her mother died. Her youngest brother, Marvin Eugene, was just 6 months old, John Benjamin (Bill) was three years old, and her three sisters (Henrietta, Lacie, and Elsie) were between eight and fourteen years old when their mother died. Their father, Bud Allen, was a well-known moonshiner in the New Light area of Wake County and spent more than a few nights in the Wake County jail paying for his misdeeds, likely leaving Mamie to care for his children.

The family lived in the New Light community in the extreme northern part of the county near present day Falls Lake. They were tenant farmers, but their primary source of income was the result of illicit distilling. The family was very poor and everyone had to pull their weight to put food on the table. Mamie's brother Atlas often hunted for the family's dinner in the surrounding forest. I'm told squirrel was on the menu far more often than they would have liked.

In the late 1930's, Mamie moved to Raleigh where she took a job in the laundry of Dorothea Dix State Mental Hospital. She and her sister Henrietta walked from Neuse (near the present day intersection of I-540 and US 401) along the railroad tracks to work each day – approximately 11 miles.

Later, Mamie became a very accomplished seamstress. She was sought after by the well dressed ladies of Raleigh as well as local tailor and retail shops. She worked for Caudle's Tailor Shop in downtown Raleigh, NC, during the day and moonlit at night sewing for her customers from her home to make ends meet. Later, she worked at Womble's Department Store[16], also in Raleigh. She lived in a small house on Bloodworth Street and then in a two-story house on Pace Street, both near downtown Raleigh. She was living in the Pace Street house with her father when he passed in 1939 from a lifetime of hard living.

Two years after her father's death, Mamie had the pleasure of announcing the marriage of her sister Elsie Loretta Allen to Thomas Byrd on Sunday 20 July 1941. Elsie and Thomas married in Mamie's home at 212 Park Avenue near downtown Raleigh[17].

Mamie's younger brother Bill also lived with her most of his life. Bill suffered from diabetes and cognitive disabilities all his life. I don't recall that he ever spoke, but he always had a smile a mile wide! Mamie eventually purchased a house on Aycock Street near the Five Points area of Raleigh where she and Bill would live until her death[18].

Aunt Mamie was the hardest working woman I've ever known. She cared for others all her life. She had only a 6th grade education and never married. She was an extremely humble woman and was devoted to caring for her family. But somewhere along the way she learned how to make the MOST fabulous 8-layer cake I've ever tasted. When I visited, Aunt Mamie would sit me down at her little red Formica kitchen table in the house on Aycock Street with a plate of cake and a large glass of orange juice, as though she thought that glass of juice would negate that huge piece of cake. She would then allow me to watch cartoons for as long as I wanted. Uncle Bill and I would watch them together while she sewed in the next room, him with that wonderful grin on his sweet face.

Aunt Mamie passed on 11 Feb 1982[19], at age 74 after a lifetime of caring for others. She is buried in the Lewis Augustus Wilson Cemetery in New Light along with family members including her father Bud, mother Lizzie, and sisters Lois Jean and Elsie[20].

FROM THE DIARY OF AN UNKNOWN MALE:

Sunday January 7.th Some days has passed, since I have wrote any thing in my journal,–
But nothing worth recording has transpired since my last entry, until to day, for which I thank the Lord, for the privilege, of this day &. I had the pleasure, of hearing Profs Walters, preach which I trust I shall profit greatly there by, his discores was from Ephesians, 6 Chapter, 13.14.15.16 and 17. verses.

1857. Tuesday 22 January.

This day, I left Forestville, for Dunnsville, and there went into business; with Mr. P Dunn. Here I formed new acquaintances, and rather, differ– associates. My oportunities, has not ben so extensive here; as what they were before coming to this place. I have not enjoyed Religion, much, since coming to this place.
I have so much, of this worlds affairs on my mind, as well as in my hands; that I have but little time, to spend in the service of God.

I have come up to the 4th of March 1857; there being nothing of much notice, in the past few months, that I have not recorded it &.

On the date above mentioned; I left home; for the purpose of going north to buy a stock of goods; I had the pleasure, of being with a friend of mine on that evening, in Franklin Co. who took to him self a Wife. (I will here give the names of the party; Wm M– Mitchel of Wake & Miss Virginia Green of Franklin.) I had the pleasure of their company, all the way to Philadelphia; and nearly all the way back home. We reached Petersburg on the evening of the 5th remained there, until the 9th when we left for Philadelphia. But, failing to make connection with the train in Richmond; we had to remain there until night, when we got abord of the cars; Reached Washington at day break next morning; reached Philadelphia at one O.clock. Left there, on tuesday 17th for Portsmouth. Reached there at 10 O.clock on the 18th

Put up at the Ocean House; was very sick during the day and night. On thursday the 19th I reached home; was sick some days after—

—Abut this time of the year; I was courting a young Lady, living, but a short distance from where I was doing Business. Here: I should like to give, some of the particulars: but not knowing, what hands this may fall into; I shall not attempt to give any of the particulars & Suffice it to say, that she give me my traveling papers — so there's an end to that.

Having lost a portion of my papers, I shall have to make a long skip here, not being able to make a correct account of the few months past.

September 1th 1857

This day I left home for the purpose of buying a stock of goods, for my employer. I Reached Petersburg in the evening, spent a day there; then through Richmond, Washing. City, Baltimore, and on to Philadelphia; where I spent two days in buying; then to New York; where I spent some days; left New York on the 9th for the Falls of Niagara; Reached there the morning of the 11th spent the day there, in viewing the great works of nature &. Passed behind the great sheet of water, in the Horse Shoe; too termination rock; it being the farthest point; man was ever known to reach.

I was accompanied by S? T. Purefy?, G? W. Fort, and others.

Late in the afternoon, we left for New York; Reached there at 11 Oclock AM, at 1 Oclock PM, I was abord of a bote for Philadelphia. Reached there, at 7 Oclock PM. Put up at the American Hotel. Took the cars at 1 Oclock AM on the 12th for Petersburg; Reached there safe, the evening of the 13th.

3 Oclock on the 14th I was abord of the Cars for Weldon; reached there a while in the night; took tea, and then for home. I reached my Depot a short time before day; but owing to all hands being asleep; I was carried to Raleigh; there I took the train for home, and arrived there at sunrise on the 15th
